Annual Wage Tax 'Take' In County Would Exceed $100,000

The controversial one-half of one per cent income tax sought by Gov. John S. Fine . . . subject, together with his budget, to a going over by the 30 Republican senators in special caucus today . . . would cost wage earners here an additional $100,000 in taxes annually, it was estimated yesterday.

The estimate is based on very conservative reports on the number of wage and salaried workers in productive industry, which covers factories or manufacturing plants, employes in service industry such as stores, resorts, etc., and a very conservative application of annual wage and salary averages for this region.

Every source checked for basic facts used to apply the tax rate emphasized the conservative character of their reports.

Sen. Montgomery F. Crowe, one of 11 GOP senators who have been consistently against the income tax, said before his departure for today's caucus that the study will probably last through Saturday and Sunday. He said he will remain in Harrisburg for the reconvening of the legislature Monday.

The senator said he is still convinced that application of a ten per cent cut on all departmental appropriations, re-enactment of the soft drink tax and the $17,000,000 balance, "which will probably go higher" will eliminate necessity for an income, sales or mercantile tax.

Crowe said the caucus will also be attended by Budget Secretary Edward Logan, Auditor General Weldon Heyburn, State Treasurer Charles Barber and Secretary of Revenue Otto Messner.

Preliminary phases of the caucus, he said, are expected to deal with a re-examination of revenues which, like the administration's estimate of returns from an income tax, are believed to be very conservative.

The Monroe senator said he expected a move to bring in department heads on the issue of economies before the caucus ends.

Re-emphasizing his belief that economies in all departmental appropriations can go a long way towards eliminating necessity of taxes, Senator Crowe also disclosed he had not "heard from a soul" in Harrisburg on the tax issue.

This lack of effort to contact the Monroe senator on the part of the Fine administration . . . despite the fact feverish activity has been used all week to realign some strength for the income tax measure . . . was taken here last night as an indicator that the administration feels Senator Crowe is definitely lost to their hopes for additional taxes.

The Associated Press last night carried reports which were completely different on the issue of Fine strength for taxes.

Sen. Fred P. Hare Jr., spokesman for the school teacher interests, said Fine has won over all but two of the 11 GOP senators who oppose the tax.

Sen. John W. Walker, Senator majority leader, differed with a statement that at least 15 Republican solons are still against the one-half of one percent income tax levy.

Johnson Sees Adoption Of Part Of Mac's Program

HST Demands Tougher Controls For At Least Two Years

Senate Unit Blocks Move To Extend Act

Washington, (AP) — President Truman last night demanded "the hardest, toughest kind" of economic controls for at least the next two years. He warned that uncontrolled inflation would bring "the easiest victory the Kremlin could ask for."

Addressing the nation by radio and television, the President called on every American to support his "fight for the very life of this nation." Without controls, he said, inflation might wreck the nation's emergency defense effort and "Communist Russia could win the whole world totalitarianism without firing a shot."

Mr. Truman spoke grimly of this "time of national danger" and said the greatest threat of runaway prices will come next fall, with or without peace in Korea.

He denounced "special interests" for raising what he called a "terrific hullaballo" against controls, and called on Congress to speak for the people by enacting his anti-inflation program. Such a program, he said, must include price controls, wage controls, rent controls, credit controls — "controls that really hold down prices and the cost of living."

"Some of you may not realize that our present powers to control high prices are due to expire in about two weeks—on the 30th of this month," he said. "That leaves just 16 days for the Congress to pass a new law. I repeat—if the Congress does not pass a new law, price controls will expire on June 30."

Earlier yesterday, the Senate Banking committee blocked a stopgap move to extend the defense production act, source of most of the government's economic controls, for nine months beyond June 30. The move was reportedly aimed at giving Congress more time to prepare a new law.

The administration has proposed a bill to extend the act for two years and strengthen its provisions. Yesterday's Senate committee action did not necessarily mean this bill will fail to win support later.

Meantime, the government directed 30,000 clothing manufacturers to figure new price ceilings for everything from underwear to overcoats.

Consumers may get a few breaks under the new regulation. the Office of Price Stabilization said, but on the whole the price of a full wardrobe will remain about the same.

Hitherto the entire wearing apparel industry has been subject to the general price freeze ordered last January. Now OPS has instructed manufacturers to figure out specific ceilings based on prices during base periods before the Korean war, plus specified cost increases since then. The new price tags must be on by August 15.

Officials were figured there will be some decreases at retail for clothing made of cotton or synthetic material. Woolen articles will rise in price somewhat.

State Policeman Slain; Assailant Makes Getaway

Oneonta, N. Y., (AP)—A State police corporal was slain yesterday on the outskirts of this upstate New York town and 150 of his fellow troopers turned out to track down the killer.

Police said the slayer may have thumbed a ride for Albany after abandoning the truck he had been driving when he shot Cpl. Arthur M. Diffendale, 33, of Otego.

THE FIRST MEETING in eighteen years between Marine Pfc. William Harvey Holocker, his mother, Mrs. J. A. Deland (right), and his sister, Mrs. Pat McDononaugh, comes about in Seattle, Wash., as result of the death of another Marine with the same name. When the parents divorced in 1933, the brother went with his father and it was only the finding of the family name on a casualty list which caused the re-married mother to trace her son through Marine records.

26 American Sailors Die As Underwater Explosion Damages Destroyer Walke

Washington, (AP)—An underwater explosion—believed caused by a Communist mine—ripped the U. S. Destroyer Walke in Korean waters last Tuesday, killing 26 men and injuring seven others.

A Navy announcement yesterday said the 2,200-ton destroyer's hull was damaged but she made a Japanese port under her own power. The announcement added the explosion was "presumably caused by a floating mine."

A Navy spokesman said the explosion tore a gash about six by 15 feet in the Walke's hull aft on the port side. He added that this is the area containing most living compartments which probably accounted for the relatively high death toll.

The spokesman placed the scene of the explosion at about 65 miles east of Pusan, the South Korean port. He said the Walke is now in the Japanese port of Sasebo.

It was the eighth U. S. Naval vessel to be sunk or damaged by enemy action since the Korean war began and raised the Navy's casualty toll at 48 dead, 122 wounded and 36 missing. It marked the heaviest single casualty toll for the Navy.

Two other destroyers, the Brush and Mansfield, were damaged by mines, another was hit by shore batteries, as was the battleship New Jersey, and four minesweepers were sunk or damaged.

Adm. Forrest Sherman, U. S. chief of Naval operations, told the Senate's MacArthur inquiry committee last month that a large number of Russian-made mines have been planted in Korean waters. He added that presumably the Chinese Communists are laying them off Korean shores.

Six Escape Execution

Trenton, N. J. (AP)— Four of six Trenton Negroes — once all condemned to die for murder—were freed yesterday and two were sent to prison for life after their third trial.

Accused of slaying an elderly white shopkeeper with a pop-bottle in a 1948 holdup, the men were made an international left-wing cause when they all were sentenced to the electric chair in their first trial. A second trial ended in a mistrial.

The New Jersey Supreme court ordered a new trial but condemned the Civil Rights congress, which stirred a campaign here and abroad calling the case "lynching—northern style."

Labeled a subversive Communist-front by the government, the CRC took its lawyers out of the retrial but continued mass agitation. It was the CRC which tagged the case the "Trenton Six."

Gen. M'Arthur Hits Campaign Of 'Confusion'

Houston, Tex. (AP)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur declared last night there is a campaign under way in the United States to "prevent the truth" and to confuse the people.

He said a feeling of fear is being generated throughout the nation "by the constant but false propaganda that we are weak—that we are not prepared to defend ourselves against any who may attack."

And he added there can be "no surer incitation to attack on the United States than the lack of confidence Americans show in themselves."

The general spoke before a crowd unofficially estimated at less than 10,000 people—far short of the 70,000 who had been expected to jam the huge Rice Institute stadium.

There were vast expanses of bare concrete across which MacArthur looked as he began his second address before a Texas audience.

He said this "propaganda' is that 'we must appease and compromise to encourage others to desist from attacking."

And then he added:

"There could be no greater illusion—no surer indication to attack us—than the lack of confidence we thus show in ourselves.

"It is not from threat of external attack that we have reason to fear. It is from those insidious forces working from within."

Speaking on these "insidious forces" MacArthur said:

"It is they that create the basis for fear by spreading false propaganda designed to destroy those moral precepts to which we have clung for direction since the immutable declaration of our independence became the great charter of our liberty."

He said this "campaign to prevent the truth and shape and confuse the public mind with its consequent weakening of moral courage" cannot be charged entirely to Communists.

"For they have many allies," he said, "here, as elsewhere, who, blind to reality, ardently support the general Communist aims while reacting violently to the mere suggestion that they do so."

He declared there are those who 'subvert morality" as a means to gain or "entrench power." And he added: "There are those who, believing themselves liberals, chart a course which can but lead to destruction."

The crowd was small but it was noisy and frequently interrupted the general with bursts of applause.

In his speech, General MacArthur made one remark which seemed to be a reference to his ouster by President Truman.

He said:

"There are those who seek to prevent men from fearlessly speaking their minds according to the dictates of their conscience."

And then the general took a slap at the domestic policies of the Truman administration by saying:

"There are those who seek to make the burden of taxation so great and the progressive increased so alarming that the spirit of adventure, tireless energy and masterful initiative which built the material strength of the nation shall become stultified and inert.

Allied Tanks Prowl Central Korean Front; Reds Fight Back East, North Of Triangle

Tokyo, (AP)—Allied tank teams prowled the central Korean front almost unopposed today and patrols lashed six miles northward in the west, but the Reds fought back fiercely in the east.

Armored teams found the once-vaunted Communist "iron triangle" in the center almost empty of Reds. But east and south of the flatlands of the Chorwon-Kumhwa-Pyonggang triangle the going was touch.

AP Correspondent Tom Bradshaw reported from U. S. Eighth Army headquarters that Communists fought a series of sharp skirmishes near Kumhwa, southeast anchor of the old triangle, and near Yanggu at the eastern end of Hwachon reservoir.

Southeast of Kumhwa, Red troops recaptured a hill they had lost only an hour before. Then they suddenly withdraw to the north.

Allied observers said that every bit of high ground north of Kumhwa was held by Reds who were well dug in.

Allied forces beat off several small-scale probing attacks northeast of Yanggu. Small bands of ranging Reds fighting with rifles, machineguns and hand grenades hampered Allied patrols and forced a series of sharp skirmishes northeast of the big reservoir.

Patrols ranged nearly four miles deep into the no-man's-land north of Chorwon without finding a sign of Communists.

On the extreme western front, Allied patrols thrust six miles ahead of their lines without opposition.

Two unidentified planes bombed the area south of Seoul yesterday one plane dropped four bombs on Seoul's southern suburb of Yongdongpo and later strafed the town. A second plane dropped four bombs over Suwon airfield, 25 miles south of Seoul. This was the farthest south Red planes had struck in months. Results were not disclosed.

A mightly Allied Armored thrust Wednesday rolled through Pyonggang, 28 miles north of parallel 38 and apex of the Red assembly area.

McCarthy Attacks Marshall As Official Who Lost Peace

Washington, (AP)—Senator McCarthy (R-Wis) pictured Gen. George C. Marshall yesterday as a "mysterious, powerful" figure who sided with Russia in historic decisions which "lost the peace" for the United States.

McCarthy spoke for nearly three hours with criticism after criticism of Marshall, now secretary of defense and chief of staff of the Army during the war.

He also lashed out anew at Secretary of State Acheson as a man whose allegiance is "to the Kremlin" and pictured President Truman as a man who does not understand great issues confronting him.

"I think it is clear," McCarthy said, "That in these great matters of life and death, Truman is in the custory of Marshall and Acheson."

McCarthy said Marshall:

First, "More often than not" swayed the wartime opinions of President Roosevelt to the Russian side, away from the British.

Second. Once concealed information that the Japanese were reaching for peace and urged "the grim necessity of bribing Stalin to get into the war."

Third. Took the Russian side in insisting on an invasion of France to strike at the Germans from the west rather than from the south of Europe.

Fourth. Imposed an embargo on arms to the Chinese Nationalists which "perhaps more than any other factor made the victory of Russian imperialism in China inevitable."

Fifth. Is teaming up now with Acheson to impose a "phoney and fraudulent peace" in Korea.

Robbers Get $42,000 Loot

Warren, O., (AP) — Four gunmen, their faces masked with white handkerchiefs, forced a car to the side of Route 45 yesterday and stole $42,000 in cash from two credit union officials.

State Patrolman C. F. Shaw said the bandits kidnaped the two men, but released them unharmed about three miles from the scene of the holdup.

The victims were Harlan Viller, 29, secretary, and Tom Trifilette, 49, assistant treasurer of the Aristoly Federal Credit union, which operates a type of payroll savings plan.

One of the union's functions is cashing payrolls checks at Copperweld Steel Co., north of here.

In preparation for a Copperweld pay day today, the two union officials drew the $42,000 from the Union Savings & Trust Co. Bank here yesterday afternoon. They were headed for the plant in their car when the holdup occurred.

Seven Fliers Killed

Jacksonville, Fla., (AP)—Seven crewmen died and two were seriously hurt when a Navy patrol plane crashed and burned in a piney marshland several miles south of here yesterday.

Senate Cuts Appropriation For Agencies

Washington (AP) —An economy-minded Senate yesterday approved a trimmed down $2,538,338,000 budget bill for two government agencies. The bill would pinch off ten percent in payroll funds for the Federal Security agency (FSA) and the Labor department — a saving of about $11,700,000.

The bill is about $120,000,000 less than the amount approved in the House and $225,000,000 under President Truman's budget estimate.

The bill now goes to conference with the House. The House wants to reduce the number of Federal employes by filling only one of four job openings rather than by slashing appropriations outright.

It was the Senate's first action on money bills for the next fiscal year, starting July 1. And it served notice on other government departments and agencies that they, too, may feel the axe.

Big Tax Bill Sent To House

Washington (AP)—A record $7,233,000,000 tax increase cleared the House Ways and Means committee yesterday for House consideration next Wednesday.

A staff expert said he knows of no single previous revenue bill carrying such a large total. Even so, it is less than three-fourths of the $10,000,000,000 extra bite President Truman urgently requested months ago.

Warns Against Letting Russia Bleed Us Dry

Washington, (AP) — Former Secretary of Defense Louis Johnson said yesterday "we are just drifting" in the Korean war and declared that part of the MacArthur program may have to be adopted to end the "blood letting."

Gen. Douglas MacArthur, ousted as supreme Far East commander, has called for bombing enemy targets in Manchuria, a naval blockade of Red China, and the use of Chinese Nationalist troops in the struggle against Communist aggression.

Johnson also testified that the Truman administration at time reflected "seeming hostility" toward Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's Chinese National government.

He said that when he was defence chief in 1949-50, the military high command was seeking to speed up aid to the Nationalists, but he declared:

"Without being able to give you the details, the definite feeling I had—there was a dragging of feet, an effort to delay."

In day-long testimony before the Senate MacArthur inquiry committee, Johnson said that the State department "wanted to sell the President on the idea that we have no interest in Formosa."

Formosa is the seat of the Chinese Nationalist government.

"Generally speaking," Johnson said, "it seemed to me that the State department was critical of and did not support the (Chinese Nationalist) government we recognized."

Senator Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) told Johnson that the administration's present policy in the Korean war is "merely to stand as a wall and let Communism, the aggressors, wear themselves out against that wall of flesh."

Johnson: "I think we are just drifting. I am trying to be a good boy today, or I would talk on that subject, too."

Asked whether he thought the administration's course is the best way " to give us victory with the least loss of life and the least danger," Johnson replied:

"At the moment, today, yes. Tomorrow we may have to be more aggressive."

Johnson warned against letting Russia "bleed us dry in Korea forever."

Chairman Russell (D-Ga) asked Johnson to return for further questioning today—the 36th day of the Senate hearings on the ouster of General MacArthur and the controversy over the administration's far east policies.

Questioned by Sen. Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex), the former defense head testified he would not pull American troops out of Korea as suggested by Lt. Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer in earlier testimony.

"Was it your view in 1949 that the fall of Formosa was probable?" The Texas senator asked.

"I thought the program then being followed by this government made its fall in time certain, and that is what I was protesting against," the former secretary said.

With guarded bitterness, Johnson lashed out at Secretary of State Acheson and told the senators frankly he was "hurt" when President Truman dropped him from the Cabinet last fall.

Senator Hickenlooper asked Johnson if he resigned because he felt that "the State department was in the ascendancy in fixing policy in the east, both military and political."

In reply, Johnson ticked off a series of differences he said arose between himself and Acheson, including policy over Formosa, Spain, and a Japanese peace treaty.

Large Number Of Tickets Sold For Ball

The rush for tickets to the colorful 1951 Laurel Blossom Time Festival ball, fashion show and coronation ceremonies for Miss Ruth Hussey, glamorous screen and stage star, piled up yesterday as planners moved ahead with arrangements to provide dramatic staging for the show and coronation at Shawnee inn on June 20.

Miss Hussey was obtained for the Laurel Queen role by Mrs. Rowena Stevens, owner-operator of Pocono Playhouse. Miss Hussey will star in "The Royal Family" at the playhouse in Canadensis on June 25.

Ed Strickland of Strickland's Mountain inn near Mount Pocono sent a check for $260 to cover 52 Laurel ball tickets, to Walter Fossa, director of the celebration in Pocono Mountains Chamber of Commerce headquarters in Stroudsburg.

Mr. Strickland has sold 40 tickets by mail to guests who have not yet arrived at his hotel. He is taking 12 for his own group.

Anticipating sale of 36 more tickets, Mr. Strickland said yesterday: "We believe everyone in the Poconos will reap great benefits from the tremendous impact of the publicity that has so far been felt as far away as 1,000 miles."

Soaring sales were boosted by Harry Ahnert of Club Fernwood near Bushkill who ordered 12 tickets and Billy Soose, Lake Wallenpaupack, who wrote for 24 ticket reservations. Irwin Shinnen of Onawa lodge, will head a Barrett contingent heading for Shawnee, while Fred Schneider, Forrest inn and LeRoy Dengler, Hawthorne inn placed their orders yesterday.

Livestock Farmers To Take Trip

The growing importance of Pennsylvania's livestock industry and a man who has given a lifetime of service to that industry will share a dual recognition next Monday at the Pennsylvania State College, with Monroe County farmers and others taking part.

Reservations can be made through the Agricultural Extension office, Post Office building, Stroudsburg, whose telephone number is Stroudsburg 504.

County Agent A. E. Ifft says many of those planning to attend from this and surrounding counties know personally William B. Connell, extension livestock specialist, who is to receive the individual honors, Connell, on the college staff 33 years, retires on June 30.

Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower, president of the college, will give the address of welcome, and preside for a friendly, formal salute to Professor Connell. Speakers will include State Director J. M. Business News In Monroe Area

Ray Price Motors, Inc., Mercury-Lincoln dealers, recently purchased the former Heckman gasoline station at Fourth and Main Sts., Stroudsburg.

The property has been converted into a modern used car lot. David Linderman, who has been associated with Ray Price for some time, has been designed manager of used car division of the firm.

The Federal Reserve Bank in Philadelphia, covering the Monroe county region, said yesterday that commercial and financial activity in the district during April was maintained at about the same high level as in the previous month with most business indicators showing little or no change. For the second consecutive month, the movement of the consumer price index was fractional.

Federal Reserve said retail buying during the month was relatively quiet, department store sales showed a slight improvement over March, and compared with a year ago, they were up only two per cent, the smallest gain for any month this year. It is quite evident, the bank said, in view of today's higher prices, that physical volume is below that of April, 1950. Stocks rose during the month, and at the end of April the ration of stocks to sales was 4.7 compared with 3.9 last year.

Business loans of Third district reporting member banks increased less than one per cent in the four weeks through May 23, and there was little change in real estate and consumer loans.

Nation's money supply rose in April, reflecting in part a shift in deposits from Government to private accounts as tax receipts were spent.

Russell H. Minich

Russell H. Minich, a resident of the Reeders section of Jackson township for the past 28 years, said yesterday he will make an aggressive campaign for the Republican nomination as county commissioner at the July 24 primary election.

Mr. Minich has been a director and secretary of the Jackson township board of school directors for the past 12 years. He is a native of Allentown and received his education in schools of that community.

Since World War Two, Mr. Minich has retired. Prior to that time he had been identified with Malleable Iron and Steel Industry for many years as eastern representative with headquarters in Philadelphia.

Mr. Minich has been associated with numerous civic and service organizations and projects in this county.

He is married to the former Emily C. Gernerd, daughter of the late Dr. E. E. Gernerd, of Bethlehem, who for many years had a home at Keller's Mill in the McIlhaney section of Chestnuthill township. Mrs. Gernerd is a sister to Dr. R. P. Gernerd, Effort and sister of Mrs. William H. Glick, wife of Dr. Glick, Reeders, Pa.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Minich have been members of the West End Republican club for many years.

Pfc. Hagerty Studying At Sheppard Base

Sheppard Air Force Base, Texas —Pfc. William B. Hagerty, 21, son of Blake Hagerty, 720 Scott St., Stroudsburg, recently entered the Airplane and Engine Mechanics school at Sheppard Air Force base, the home of the largest technical school of this type in the world.

Hagerty, who was the official "weatherman" for The Daily Record for the past few years, is a graduate of Stroudsburg High school. He was employed by the Line Material Co. before he entered the Air Force.

During his 22-week course as a student at Sheppard he will receive intensive training designed to provide him with the thorough knowledge and the basic skills required in servicing, inspecting and maintaining every type of aircraft currently used by the USAF.

Upon graduation he will be awarded the rating of airplane and engine mechanic and probably will be assigned to one of the major Air Force commands for on-the-job experience.

Trade Board Holds Election Of Officers

Portland—The Board of Trade recently held a steak dinner at Otto's Grandview restaurant in Delaware Water Gap at which time election of officers for the coming year was held.

Members unanimously re-elected were Otto Hochrein, president; Clifford Sebring, vice-president; Max Effross, treasurer; and Rene Zeutzius, secretary. Directors chosen were Henry Webb, Frank Fitzgerald, J. J. Lewis, Sidney Effross, William Cowell, and Orville Miller.

E. Albert Boyer, county commissioner and secretary of the Northampton County Chamber of Commerce, was the guest speaker. He spoke on county government and explained the operations of the county commissioners' office.

The next meeting will be a dinner on Wednesday, July 11, at the Portland house. Business to be discussed at the meeting will deal with the formation of a stronger and finer Boy Scout unit in the area. Henry Webb, J. J. Lewis, and Rene Zeutzius will be in charge of the arrangements.

Police Charge East Borough Man With Drunken Driving

An East Stroudsburg man suffered slight injuries shortly after 1:15 a. m. yesterday when the car he was driving ran off Route 209 three miles west of Stroudsburg and struck a service company pole.

The driver and sole occupant of the sedan, Charley E. Rowe, 51, of 206 Washington St., in the east borough, was treated by a Stroudsburg physician who also found him to be under the influence of intoxicating liquor.

Stroudsburg State police committed him to Monroe county jail pending arraignment later yesterday before Justice of the Peace William N. Walton, of Stroudsburg. At that time, Rowe waived hearing and was released under a $300 bond.

State troopers said Rowe was driving east on Route 209 when the vehicle, a 1940 sedan owned by Stewart Rowe, of Henryville, veered off the wet highway and struck the power line pole.

The pole was well scraped but not broken by the impact, although the front right section of the sedan was dented and bent out of line. Damages were estimated at approximately $150.

Police said investigation is being continued.

HOW LONG CAN HE IGNORE IT?

Highway Casualty Lists

The heavy travel season is here. It has been evident in the Pocono Mountains region for several days and it brings to mind that about this time each year we appeal to the good sense of every motor vehicle operator regarding rules of behavior on the highways.

July, one of the peak travel months, last year killed only 900 fewer Americans than were killed in the Revolutionary war.

That ironic fact underlines the nation-wide campaign to reduce accidents, especially on the nations highways over the Fourth of July—the day which commemorates that victorius struggle for independence.

The Revolutionary war cost 4,044 patriots who were killed in action or who died of wounds. Traffic accidents last July killed 3,150 persons.

Tragic as war is, the number of Americans killed in traffic accidents since the invention of the automobile is nearly twice as great as the number killed in combat in all the nation's wars.

While the calendar will save lives this year, since the Fourth will fall in mid-week and bring only a one-day holiday for most persons, it and many other Summer days will be days of tragedy unless common-sense rules of behavior are observed.

We suggest these very few simple rules be followed:

Start your trip early enough so that you won't have to hurry. Take it easy.

Be patient in heavy traffic. Don't let annoyance make you take chances.

Be careful in recreation, especially in swimming and boating.

Fanny Brice

Many people find it hard to believe that Fanny Brice who died recently in Los Angeles, was almost 60 years old. They were the ones who knew her only via radio, as the impish "Baby Snooks."

But her career on the stage began more than four decades ago and she was a shining star of the earliest "Ziegfeld Follies."

Her comic genius made millions laugh, yet she could as easily bring a hard-boiled audience to the point of tears. And to hear her sing "My Man" was a memorable experience.

And so many who were privileged to see and hear Fanny Brice in bygone years feel a sense of almost personal loss, and think of her with affectionate regret.

Dads for a Day

Airmen at Olmsted Base in Middletown, Pennsylvania's major U. S. air base, are setting a good example for all of us. They intend to do something about Father's Day for kids who might otherwise be unable to have a bit of fun with Dad.

The airmen will be "Dads for a Day" and the day will include:

Chow (chicken) games and an inspection trip around the air base.

It should be fun for the kids and the dads.

More people might try something of the same kind.

Good News for Epicures

A big pie season is ahead for Pennsylvania epicures.

The heart of many a male of the species—and, of course, of a lot of the fairer sex, too—has been gladdened by word from the State Department of Agriculture that there is to be a bumper crop of cherries and peaches. And it won't be long, either.

If you haven't tasted pies out of Monroe county's famous kitchens — particularly those in the West End, as only a Pennsylvania housewife can bake them, you just haven't the semblance of an idea of what is good eating.

Laurel Blossom Time — Record breaking crowds are in Monroe county for the laurel celebration. W. K. LaBar, of the LaBar Rhododendron Nursery, says all previous records were broken for visitors. More than 3,000 persons visited the Nursery on Sunday. The princesses got a big thrill when Councilman L. W. Pipher had them as guests for airplane trips.

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

A stoutish lady cornered Toscanini at a reception and cooed, "Maestro, can you ever forget that night in Milan when I sat next to you and they served that wonderful macaroni pie?" The maestro answered coldly, "Your face escapes me completely, but I distinctly recall the macaroni."

When the Mobile and Southern Railroad explained to Deacon Smedley that a proposed cut-off would run right through the spot where his barn stood, and offered him ten times the worth of the property for his consent, Smedley astounded everybody, his wife in particular, by turning a deaf ear to the proposal. He defended his stand to his outraged wife by shouting, "Dang it, do ye think I'm goin' to keep running out to that barn day and night to open and shut the door every time they want to run a train through?"

Hollywood

Hollywood—Remnants a roving reporter remembers—

Gigantic Buddy Bear dwarfing big Victor Mature as they shook hands outside a sound stage... Luther Adler's toothbrush mustache and Nazi uniform—he's playing Hitler in "The Desert Fox"... Pert Debbie Reynolds, who bring out the adoring uncle instinct in me, studio-lunching in fire-engine-red pedal-pushers...

Marjorie Main scratching her hip in "Mr. Imperium". Presumably she's stuck with massaging her own anatomy in pictures since starting it, as slovenly Ma Kettle in "The Egg and I"... Director Pop Leonard watching with open mouth while his actors do a perfect take—and then shouting "Good—good—okay!"...

June Allyson, gushing: "You should see my little boy" (born last Christmas Eve). "He's a miniature Richard." (That's what she calls husband Dick Powell.) "It's like someone had taken Richard's head and shrunken it down. The long upper lip, the turned-up nose. He's so cute!"...

Hairy-chested Bill Holden lunching in a studio commisary. He'd worn a bathrobe from the set where he was a wounded soldier in a back-of-the-lines hospital... Producer Jerry Wald wiggling his fingers in imitation sign language at Jane Wyman. Presumably a good-luck gesture on their new picture. He produced "Johnny Belinda," in which she won an Oscar as a deaf-mute...

Surprising how many people pronounce it "marleen." But Marlene Dietrich herself says it's "mar-lay-na."... Bob Cummings flew his director to an inland resort the other Sunday. Next day his fellow actors gibed: "He doesn't just take the director an apple. He takes the director to Apple Valley!"...

These Days — By George E. Sokolsky

Leahy's Testimony

One of the items omitted from the Russell Committee Investigation was the Honolulu Conference of 1944. President Roosevelt went to the Pacific to straighten out any differences between General MacArthur and Admiral Nimitz on how to fight Japan. Admiral William D. Leahy, in his book, "I Was There," says:

"These two meetings were much more peaceful than I had expected after what I had been hearing in Washington. Here in Honolulu we were working with facts, not with the emotional reactions of politicians. MacArthur had shown exceptional ability early in his army career and his rise had been rapid. It was no secret that in the Pentagon building in Washington there were men who disliked him, to state the matter mildly . . . I personally was convinced that MacArthur and Nimitz were, together, the two best qualified officers in our service for this tremendous task. Nimitz promised that he would give the Army commander the needed transportation and naval support. Both told the president they had what they needed, that they were not asking for anything, and that they would work together in full agreement toward the common end of defeating Japan."

Further, Admiral Leahy wrote: "We had a special meeting of the joint chiefs in which I gave them a detailed report of the Honolulu conference. They may have been somewhat surprised to learn that Nimitz and MacArthur said they had no disagreements at the moment and that they could work out their joint plans in harmony . . ."

The astonishment of the joint chiefs of staff must have been great indeed, for already there were numerous rumors and reports of how difficult MacArthur was and how he and the Navy were having a tough time. Actually, this was not so, and the rumors undoubtedly were designed to lessen General MacArthur's influence and the weight of his views.

The basic question was whether the Philippines were to be bypassed and Japan attacked directly. Leahy says:

"MacArthur was convinced that an occupation of the Philippines was essential before any major attack in force should be made on Japanese-held territory north of Luzon. The retaking of the Philippines seemed to be a matter of great interest to him. He said that he had sufficient ground and air forces for the operation and that his only additional needs were landing craft and naval support."

So General MacArthur and Admiral Nimitz, sitting with President Roosevelt in Honolulu, stipulated, according to Admiral Leahy:

". . . MacArthur and Nimitz were now in agreement that the Philippines should be recovered with ground and air power then available in the western Pacific and that Japan could be forced to accept our terms of surrender by the use of sea and air power without an invasion of the Japanese homeland."

It is important to note that Russia was at this time in no way associated with the Far Eastern war. Russia was a neutral and strictly so. It was MacArthur's theory that if he could cut Japan off from her conquered territory, seize the shipping and air lanes, he would reduce the availability of rice and raw materials and that he would defeat Japan without attacking her directly and thus save a great many American lives. This was accomplished.

This Honolulu conference is important in any understanding of the long series of events which Congress is now investigating. Yet, it has thus far not even been considered. For instance, Dean Acheson has defended Yalta on the grounds that Russia could have taken anything she wanted to take. But Russia was not even in the far eastern war at the time that the strategy of the Pacific war was designed at Honolulu. At no point in Admiral Leahy's recital of what occurred at Honolulu was Russia given any consideration.

But they talked about England. This is what Leahy says in his book:

"Nimitz and MacArthur discussed with the president the role that the British, especially the Royal Navy, would play in the final operations against Japan... There were reports that some elements in Churchill's government were in favor of obtaining a controlling interest in the Dutch East Indies once they had been recaptured. It was MacArthur's contention that the British should not be allowed to assume control of any territory that we recaptured from the enemy. I suspected that the Australians, in this matter, were in complete agreement with MacArthur."

All this might be included in the record. Maybe it explains why the British and the pro-British elements in this country are so antagonistic to MacArthur.

Washington Report

By Fulton Lewis Jr.

President Truman, by executive decree, has appeased labor bosses who are shooting for a 5,000,000 man membership increase during the national defense build-up period.

In issuing his executive order setting up the Wage Stabilization board, the President signed away most of the functions of the Taft-Hartley labor relations law.

Accomplishing this has been a prime desire of Mr. Truman's ever since Congress shoved the law down his throat following a presidential veto.

Now most major labor disputes will be adjudicated by the Wage Stabilization board, which has the power to grant concessions to labor bosses. In effect, the presidential decree puts a shotgun in the hands of labor bosses who will use it for holding administration politicians in line.

The Taft-Hartley act provides a few safety valves which protect non-union and union members alike. Principally, it carries an "insurance" clause against crackpot strikes or those promoted for the benefit of labor bosses who seek political gain. Its approval by Congress ushered in an astounding period of labor peace by virtually eliminating the lunatic fringe of labor bosses who issue strike ultimatums every time their blood pressure climbs above 160.

The President's knuckling under to labor bosses in signing the Wage Stabilization board order built a fire under representative Tom Werdel, California Republican who knows more about labor law gimmicks than three-fourths of the members of Congress. He came up fast with a cure for the President's action, after deriding the "bureaucratic Cossacks riding through the halls of Congress."

Werdel proposes a "democracy in union act" required a 45 day strike notice to cover labor disputes regardless of whether a labor-management contract exists. Under the Taft-Hartley act a 60 day strike notice is mandatory—but only when a contract exists.

With labor bosses shoving off on a big drive for new members and plant unionization demands in the midst of burgeoning defense production it is vital to apply the same safety valves contained in the Taft-Hartley act for non-contract plants.

Werdel wants Congress to approve a mandatory mail strike ballot clause in his democracy in union act, calling for a mail strike vote whenever conciliation between managment and labor bogs down. The Taft-Hartley act contains no mandatory provisions for a strike vote except in cases where a national emergency exists.

Under Werdel's bill no strike would be legal unless a 45 day notice is issued. If no agreement is reached at the end of that time a secret strike ballot, conducted by mail, would be mandatory, irrespective of whether or not a contract exists. Union members would have 15 days in which to discuss the strike, its ultimate results and the management offer, while the NLRB polls them on striking.

Safety precautions for maintaining the secrecy and honesty of the strike ballot would be guaranteed by sending the ballots through the mail. As Werdel points out, propaganda tricks to sway union voting in favor of strikes, as employed by labor bosses in hectic, mass labor meetings, would be alleviated. A man and his wife could sit down at home and discuss the issues in private under Werdel's law. Union halls, which are usually of a size wherein only a fragment of the membership can gather, would be eliminated as a factor in strike votes.

In addition Werdel's proposal provides that no officer of a labor organization may continue to hold office unless a free election is held every two years. This would be pretty rough on some of the union bosses who have wangled lifetime jobs and now never even bother with the formality of an election, to say nothing of an accounting of union funds.

Werdel maintains that as it now stands the patriotic American union member is unable to make his actions effective in controlling his union boss, and that he also is unable to aid in halting the creeping socialism of a labor boss-bureaucratic coalition set up under the Wage Stabilization board. He thinks his bill would remedy both these complaints.

We were on teevy almost as long as though our regular Sunday Nighter had been telecast a full season (45 weeks), which would total 11¼ hours . . . The gag sweeping The Stem is the one about the difference between Frustration and Panic. (I liiiike it, I liiiike it!). Will swap it for $1 to fight cancer.

Clap hands! One of the few anti-Red films to do whiz biz is: "I Was a Communist for the FBI." It is among May's top 10 grossers . . . Hollywood is like this: A movie mag reports Stanwyck and Taylor have discovered how much they love each other—since they were divorced . . . Although vaude acquired new glands two years ago, it is slowly fading away again. Numerous hinterland theatres are dropping stage shows . . . Add baffers: The Roxy advertised a "sneak" preview!

Trend of the times: The play, "Goodbye, My Fancy," had an anti-war theme. The film version concerns academic freedom . . . Show biz is big biz: Admish taxes alone average $26,000,000 monthly . . . It's never a cinch. Shirley ("A Tree Grows in Brooklyn") Booth hit stardom after trouping for a quarter century . . . The British movie, "Oliver Twist" (damned by many as inciting bigotry), was released in the hinterlands recently and is turning out to be a financial dud. No tears, please.

Talk about talent abuse: Former Broadway stars are doing 1-minute teevy singing commershills . . . "My Life's Desire" is strictly for male cadenza-jugglers. Its lyrics sound silleh when thrushed by femme larks . . . Have an eyebrow-lifter: The Critics' Circle prizewinner, "Darkness at Noon," is not among Variety's list of the season's clicks . . . Robert Merrill's platter of "The Girls We Never Did Wed" gives his resonant tones a nice workout . . . Gene Baylos' guesting on teevy indicates he rates his own show. His fool-de-rol inspires belt-buckle guffaws . . . West Coast radio crowns are still making the mistake of aiming quips at locals.

Looking at Life

By Erich Brandeis

Brandeis

One of the defects in today's world is college professors.

Not that I haven't the highest respect for the profession. Most of its practitioners are admirable citizens and do a fine and useful job.

But too many of them sit in ivory towers and have entirely too little contact with what is going on outside.

They move in restricted circles and have to maintain social standings completely out of proportion to their incomes. Environment, background and traditions make intellectual snobs of them.

Then some of these frustrated fellows sit down and write pessimistic books, based not on facts but on their own inhibitions and fallacies, and hang crepe on the doors of their students and the world in general.

Unfortunately a lot of people think that everything said or written by a professor is the gospel and the law. Few of us ordinary folks who haven't spent as many years within the cloistered walls of colleges and universities nor given so much time to books, dare contradict them.

A book just published, entitled "After the Lost Generation," illustrates my point.

This book, written by John W. Aldridge, a young professor at the University of Vermont, drools pessimism.

It drools it so much, that the review in one of New York's two most important book sections, is headed as follows:

"ALL THE DISILLUSIONED YOUNG MEN
"From Hemingway to Mailer, the Mood
"Persist That Life Now Is Meaningless."

Let me quote a paragraph from the review, which was also written by a college professor—Robert Gorham Davis, associate professor of English at Smith College.

"For Aldridge," says Davis, "the discovery that modern life is meaningless was made by the first generation, whose illusions were destroyed by the war, and confirmed and repeated by the second generation, which had already learned, from reading the works of their predecessors, NOT TO HAVE ANY ILLUSIONS."

That, of course, is stuff and nonsense.

I belong to that first generation of which the reviewer speaks. I still have illusions and so have many of my contemporaries. To us life today has more meaning than ever before. More and more is to be done. More problems arise and must be solved.

I make it a point to keep in close contact with that "second generation," which in Davis' opinion haes learned not to have any illusions.

Don't these professors UNDERSTAND their students? Those modern youngsters are so chuck full of illusions, of hopes, of aspirations, of resolves to make this a better world that NO adult can keep up with them!

A lot of these "disillusioned" writers are really psychopathic cases. Many of them are disillusioned because they have had dreams of greatness, of fame, of riches in which they have been frustrated.

Fortunately this country is not made up of WRITERS and PROFESSORS but of DOERS.

Here in America the ILLUSIONS of the young of each generation become ACTIONS and ACHIEVEMENT. While the DELUSIONS of the DISILLUSIONED become coffins of the mind.

The Once Over

Doorbell Ringers, Arise!

Now we know why the United States Supreme Court has been acting so ornery about things lately. It used to be steady-going and dependable. But for some years it has been irascible, disputative and unreliable. The cause seems clear. It has been bothered by brush salesmen. This was revealed the other day in a sharp decision declaring, to all effects, that no salesman has any right to ring a doorbell without permission of the housewife. And written permission, too. The court held constitutional the right of any community to pass such a law. It showed less disagreement than in any case in years. (There were a couple of dissents, but these were from justices who never answer a doorbell anyhow, and just yell down "Scram.")

T. Aristotle Winch, of Winch, Winch, Smathers, Winch and Winch, this department's favorite attorney (who worked his way through college selling magazine subscriptions) declares the court off base, however. He cites Hubble versus Flatfoot (506, Mass. 84) which held that a doorbell is a doorbell and is put there to be rung. "Indeed," reads this decision, "if there is a doorbell on a house and it does not work, a salesman may even be within his rights in heaving a rock through an upper window."

Mr. Winch also cited Bottlefly versus Mrs. Potts (86, Conn. 325). In this case Mrs. Potts was forced to chop the foot off a book salesman after he had stuck it in the doorway. Bottlefly sued for a new foot. The court suspended Mrs. Potts' hatchet license saying, "Even if she had been summoned downstairs for the fourth time that morning by peddlars, the salesman was within his rights in trying to advance literature. The practice of inserting the foot in a doorway has been long allowable under common law. The argument that the defendant had a right to hack his foot off because she suspected that, failing in his effort to sell her a set of books, he would try to put over a vacuum cleaner, is hereby dismissed."

Then there is the ruling in the case of Haddock versus Crumps (46, Illinois, 76). Here Haddock, a young man, called to sell Hector Crumps subscriptions to seven periodicals, saying he was working his way through college. Crumps threw him off the porch, holding that Haddock was at least 37 years of age and that this was his sixteenth season of working his way through college. The court held that for every doorbell ringer 37 years of age seeking an education there are hundreds much younger, and their right to operate must be protected.

The most novel ruling, however, came in Stuffle versus Wimpus (33 R. I. 8197). A young man rang the bell and proposed that the tenant go to college while he moved in, subscribed to all the magazines and did the housework. Wimpus, the defendant, hit him with a chair. The court said, "Stuffle had the idea of the decade."

Music School At Rochester Honors Waring

Fred Waring

Fred Waring, Shawnee-on-Delaware, great choral leader and creator and director of Waring's Pennsylvanians, was given an honorary degree of doctor of music Wednesday by Dr. Howard Hanson, director of Eastman School of Music, at University of Rochester's 101st commencement exercises.

Dr. Hanson characterized Mr. Waring in this manner:

"Impressario extraordinary, modern reincarnation of the troubadours and the skalds of ancient days, he has brought joy, laughter, inspiration and courage to millions of his fellow Americans.

"One of the great choral conductors of modern times he has, as professor without portfolio, revolutionized the art of choral singing in America."

Mr. Waring is currently preparing to join five sessions of the Waring School of Music Workshop which this year will be held at five different colleges and universities throughout the nation.

Usually held at Shawnee, the school will utilize all of the staff of experts and provide the same complete instruction in Waring choral techniques which are given at the Shawnee sessions.

Only those who have received a notice to report for induction are ineligible to enlist. Further details are available at the local Army and Air Force Recruiting station, located in the Stroudsburg postoffice or by calling Stroudsburg 3586.

Water Gap To Eliminate Seventh Grade

Pupils Will Be Sent To Stroudsburg

Stroudsburg school board last night agreed to accept seventh grade students from Delaware Water Gap, thereby clearing the way for elimination of the seventh grade level at the Water Gap school.

The Delaware Water Gap school board eliminated the eighth grade at the Gap school several years ago, after Stroudsburg's Board of Education agreed to accept their students of that level.

Members of the Stroudsburg board said that the seventh grade level at Water Gap comprises an average of 12 pupils, indicating that the transfer of the one grade will mean no heavy additional load for the Stroudsburg Junior High.

Two bids were also awarded during last night's board meeting conducted at the W. Main St. school. Mid Valley Roofing Co., which had submitted a low bid of $1,400, was granted the contract for reroofing the Ramsey elementary school, while Clarence W. Smith was awarded a contract for painting the exterior of the Morey school.

Smith, who presented one of five bids on the painting work, was low bidder at $382.50.

The board also authorized the appointments of Mrs. Mildred B. Munson and Mrs. Dorothy A. Kelly as elementary school substitute instructors.

Miss Virginia Robinson and Mrs. Ruth Serfass were elected to positions as additional playground personnel.

Balances of $57,514.19 in the general fund, $318.75 in the coupon account, and $91.79 in the sinking fund were reported. U. S. Treasury bonds in the amount of $52,488.50 were also reported to bring the present assets to $110,413.23.

Bills in the amount of $2,625.70 were authorized for payment.

PUT THAT UMBRELLA DOWN—Rain and circuses usually don't mix too well, but such wasn't exactly the case yesterday when King Brothers circus played to two large crowds on Day St. grounds, East Stroudsburg. Above photo shows part of the big turnout at the matinee performance, while the umbrella the boy in front row is holding is ample evidence of the type of weather encountered.

Two Men Suffer Injuries In Cresco Traffic Accident

Cresco—A motorist and a passenger were injured here yesterday in a near head-on collision of two coupes on a hill curve on Route 90 near the Tillman Hawk residence.

Pfc. James Horan, who investigated for Mount Pocono State police, said the crash occurred at 2:20 p. m.

Rober Tambella, 29, of Canadensis, driver of one of the cars, suffered severe lacerations of the lower lip, and had to be treated later at Monroe County General hospital.

Joseph Lidistri, 23, of the Bronx, N. Y., the passenger, received deep cuts on the forehead and on the left knee.

Both men were treated at the Hawk residence by Dr. Joseph McEldowney, of Buck Hill Falls, and two Buck Hill staff nurses, Miss Mary Butzman and Miss Claire Miller. After medical aid was given Tambella, he was taken to General hospital in a private car.

According to State police, Tambella's heavy model coupe was in collision with a lighter model coupe, operated by Thomas Lynott, 19, of Mount Pocono Lynott escaped unhurt.

Both cars were extensively damaged, however. Front end of the Tambella car was demolished, and the left front of the Lynott vehicle was smashed. Both were removed from the scene by garage wreckers.

Police, who noted that it was raining at the time of the collision, are continuing the investigation.

Rain Forces Postponement Of Parade

Driver Freed In Kunkletown Man's Death

Easton—Anthony J. Boza, Andreas RD truck driver indicted for involuntary manslaughter in the death of a Kunkletown trucker, has been acquitted by a Northampton county jury here.

The jury deliberated an hour before clearing Boza of charges growing out of a spectacular February 1 accident on Route 45 at Petersville. Highway transports driven by Boza, Ray Berger, the 23-year-old Kunkletown truck driver, and a State Highway cinder truck and plow were involved.

Berger suffered fatal injuries when he was trapped in the cab of his truck and burned.

Testifying in his own defense, Boza denied he was criminally responsible for the accident. He said he was cautiously pulling around the State truck and plow in the fog at 20 to 25 miles per hour when he saw the Berger truck coming at him, uartly on his side of the highway.

He claimed he first attempted to apply his brakes, but when they would not hold, stepped on the accelerator in an attempt to get around the State truck.

State police, driver of the State truck coming at him, partly on and Lloyd Berger, Kunkletown, brother of the victim, all testified. Lloyd Berger described the accident scene as he saw it on his arrival after being summoned by police because of his brother's death.

Sen. Tobey's Son Is Cured Of Cancer

Concord, N. H. (AP)—Charles W. Tobey Jr. said yesterday he wrote a letter saying he was in good health after being treated for cancer three years ago in order to give encouragement to cancer research clinics.

Tobey's father, the veteran Republican senator from New Hampshire, placed the letter before the Senate on Wednesday. Young Tobey requested it be placed in the Congressional record.

The letter did not go into details about the treatment but mentioned the use of "anti-biotic agents." These include penicillin, streptomycin and others used in the treatment of various ailments.

Young Tobey said he had cancer of lymph glands in the neck extending down into the pulmonary cavity. Before he began treatments he was in a state of exhaustion. "After only a few weeks treatment," he added, "there was a definite change."

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your keynumber. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

ADVERTISE IN THE DAILY RECORD

Recognition Paid Borough For Safety

The board of judges of the 1950 American Automobile association's national pedestrian contest has unanimously voted that Stroudsburg receive special recognition for its splendid record of no pedestrian deaths during 1950.

A letter from Lou E. Holland, president of AAA, advised Chief Burgess Hal H. Harris of the recognition and extended "sincere congratulations for this outstanding safety record with the hope that it will continue unblemished through 1951."

Mr. Holland compliments Chief of Police James F. McConnell and the entire police force, "who acted so capably as your contest representatives in 1950."

The AAA president submitted a chart showing that the intensified pedestrian safety and protection campaign started in 1937 all over the nation has cut pedestrian fatalities 44 per cent from 15,000 in 1937 to 8,800 in 1950. Much of the credit is given the pedestrian protection contest project.

In contrast all other traffic fatalities have increased five percent since 1937 . . . from 24,143 to 25,300.

Judges of the 12th annual contest included major executives in the field of Federal and state public roads bureaus, highway safety administrators, leading traffic engineers, executives of police organizations and top automobile club leaders.

Hadassah Has Report From Israel

A first-hand account of the past five years in Israel and the problems of the future in the new land was brought to the members of the local branch of Hadassah last night at their annual banquet held at the Castle Inn in Delaware Water Gap.

The speaker was Yechial Sasson, who with his family moved to Israel about five years ago.

He told of the mass migration when 600,000 had entered the country in three years. This "ingathering of the exiles' 'of thousands of years, he said brought its problems including that of integration. In the first few years practically all of the immigrants were European, but now the bulk are coming from the primitive cultures of Algeria, Tunis, Morocco and Egypt, he said.

While these people bring their agricultural background, good emotional attitudes, they need to learn the education, skills and habits which American Jews who wish to pioneer in the new country can bring, he said.

This need for pioneers and for continued support, both financial and moral, and for a continuance of the strong tie between American Jewry and Israel were points he stressed .

Mrs. Samuel Snyderman, retiring president, was presented with a gift from the Hadassah., and Mrs. Nathan Hammerman, new president, presided at the second half of the program. There was an excellent attendance, and an elaborate dinner was served, with the tables decorated with roses and poppies and flowers from Water Gap gardens.

David Mason sang a number of solos with Mrs. William Friedman as accompanist.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

Never fails that when space is short I pick up more fascinating bits of information. I could tell you how rugged was Margie Shull's initiation as an airplane passenger. Thunder, lightning, and gales all the way home from Florida.

Could tell you how Henrietta Baldwin made a hole in one put, but it was the wrong cup during the putting match on the porch at Glen Brook.

Could tell you about how the Palestine class licked the deluge, and what we had to eat at the Hadassah dinner, as well as Dr. Leitner's recipe for spaghetti and Greta Phillipsberg's formula for brook trout.

Maybe news, as well as grass, sprouts faster in the damp weather, but we'll hope for clearing skies anyway. The grass is ankle deep and the news notes are knee-high.

It's False Economy . . .
Not to have winter garments properly Cleaned and sealed in our vaults.
Here are just a few reasons:
1—Leaving dirt and perspiration in clothing causes it to deteriorate, causing yellow stains and discoloration.
2—Moths love to eat out the cloth along with the spots on soiled clothing.
3—Moths seldom attack clean clothing.
4—Soiled garments gather moisture and mildew.
5—It costs no more to clean clothes now than it will next fall, and when properly cleaned and stored in our modern vaults, they STAY CLEAN and are ready to wear when needed.

Life of Riley

By JIM RILEY
Sports Editor

Rainy weather always hits the sports pages hard and since the action on the local front was nill for the past two days, I have decided to mention a subject that has been postponed by this writer on more than one occasion. However, I feel that today is the day to talk over the football and athletic scheduling in general between Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg High schools. True, the date is early, but as the old saying goes—a stitch in time saves nine.

Although baseball is the chief topic of conversation at the present time, people of this area are looking ahead not to the 1951 football campaign, but the 1952 season, at which time a make or break decision must be made concerning the date on which the respective High schools will hold their annual football struggle—or whether they will hold the contest at all.

The people of Monroe county have been asking that the East Stroudsburg grid battle become a Thanksgiving Day affair and little by little signs point to the fact that such will be the case in the future. However, what the followers of both schools want to know is how soon such a step will become a reality and why can't it happen in 1952? True, there are problems confronted by both sides, but none can possibly be large enough to stop such a natural rivalry.

Natural rivalries are the backbone of football law and nothing can keep rivals of this nature from clashing on an ideal day, to both parties. Bangor and Pen Argyl present a perfect example, as no team, league, person or group of people would even dare think of changing the annual grid clash between these two arch rivals. The same would be true when and if East Stroudsburg and Stroudsburg ever get together on a Thanksgiving Day football date. Due to the gate appeal and all around common sense of such a meeting on the final date of the season, both the Lehigh-Northampton and Lehigh Valley leagues would have to give their blessings to the contest.

There is no hope for the Thanksgiving Day clash next year, as the Stroudsburg-East Stroudsburg grid battle is slated to take place on Friday, October 12, Columbus Day, at Gordon Giffels field. The contest will be played under the lights. However, using the Stroudsburg schedule as an example, the game comes at a very poor time of the season, as far as success and failure of the Mountaineers is concerned. Stroudsburg is scheduled to meet Bangor, Emmaus, Palmerton and Pen Argyl before East Stroudsburg, with Whitehall, Catasauqua, Slatington, Northampton and Lehighton following the "Battle of the Boroughs."

The fact that the season reaches its peak on the fifth game of the season naturally takes some of the thrill out of the game the remainder of the campaign. It is also evident that the losing team is in even a worse condition, as the coaching staff finds it virtually impossible to get the club "up" for the remaining games on the slate. The rivalry has been one-sided in favor of Stroudsburg since it began, but some day the shoe may be on the other foot.

However, I will admit that the possibilities of having the game played on its proper date, the last day of the season, seems brighter now than at any time since I began pounding this typewriter. The fact that standings of the teams in the Lehigh-Northampton and Lehigh Valley leagues will be computed as a conference next season is certainly a step in the right direction. If the majority of schools are well satisfied with the manner in which the conference operates in 1951, it may become an official circuit the following season.

If the conference becomes official in 1952, a new type of scheduling will have to be used and in that manner Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg may take their rightful positions opposite each other on Thanksgiving Day—much to the delight of all concerned. The day that an official announcement is made, telling one and all that the schools on the opposite sides of the bridge are to meet annually on Thanksgiving will be one of the brightest in the history of athletics in Monroe county, as football followers are starved for action on the home front on this autumn holiday.

The fact that neither school could get together on a baseball date stirred up the tax payers plenty, as many of them had been waiting for a mound duel between Eastburg's Ray Steele and Stroudsburg's Alden "Red" Fetherman for a long time. However, the trend toward a better understanding between the arch rivals may be noted in the fact that both have already agreed on basketball dates for the 1951-52 campaign. This writer is only one of many who hope that an early settlement of the football problem is in sight and the day that a Thanksgiving agreement is made will be a truly prosperous day for each school, both from a football and financial angle.

Steele To Hurl Against Portland On Sunday

Pocono A. C. Renews Fight For Top Spot

Ray Steele

Ray Steele, highly regarded right handed pitcher, will toe the rubber for Pocono A. C. on Sunday, when the Monroe County League entry in the Blue Mountain League plays host to the Portland Apollos at Gordon Giffels field, it was announced last night by John Schoonover, club manager.

Steele, a resident of Bushkill and a student at East Stroudsburg High school, had been pitching for the Coplay American Legion club this year, but was declared ineligible recently by an American Legion ruling that prevents a player from a county not adjoining the one in which he is playing ball from seeing action in American Legion ranks.

Alden "Red" Fetherman, triple-threat athlete at Stroudsburg High, was also declared ineligible. Fetherman was dividing his time between the pitching mound and outfield for Coplay. Fetherman will also play with Pocono A. C.

Third Player

A third Monroe County diamond star, Ed Reese, Polk High school standout, was also declared ineligible. Reese is a resident of Gilbert.

Emmaus protested the use of the three players and since Fetherman and Reese are from Monroe County and Steele from Pike, none of which borders Lehigh, where Coplay is located, all three were declared ineligible.

Steele began attracting the attention of major league scouts during the past high school campaign when he pitched brilliantly for East Stroudsburg and was the talk off the Lehigh Valley durinf his short stay with Coplay. In the Blue Mountain League Steele will be called upon to face older and more experienced ball players.

Eastburg Circuit Opens Tonight

Rain and wet grounds postponed last night's grand opening of the East Stroudsburg Little League at the East Stroudsburg Playground. The entire Flag Day program scheduled for yesterday will be held tonight.

Schedule

The master-schedule calls for Peters-Arnold-Howell to tangle with the East Stroudsburg National Bank.

Game time is listed at 7 p.m.

Little League Contest

Tonight's action in the Stroudsburg Little League will send the First National Bank against the Pen-Stroud Hotel, at Stroudsburg Playground, at 6:30. This contest was scheduled earlier in the season, but was postponed by rain at that time.

Baseball School Today

Rain postponed yesterday's scheduled baseball school for boys between the ages of 13 and 15 inclusive at Gordon Giffels field. The school, under the direction of Doug Schoonover, Stroudsburg playground director, will be held today, at 10:30 a. m., weather permitting.

Owners Discuss Chandler In Two Meetings

New York (AP)—Organized baseball apparently completed arrangements to part company with Commissioner A. B. Chandler but announcement of the final terms was held up because Chandler could not be reached immediately.

The American and National League owners met separately and when they had reached agreement on the several documents drawn up by Chandler's lawyers they tried to locate the former Kentucky Senator and tell him their findings.

Chandler was en route by auto from Versailles, Ky., to Knoxville, Tenn., at the time and could not be reached. So the owners instructed Warren Giles, president of the Cincinnati Reds and a member of Baseball's Executive committee, to deliver their verdict to Chandler in Cincinnati today. Then they started for their homes.

The owners gave no outright indication what their decision might be although there was little doubt but that they accepted Chandler's terms. They said a simultaneous announcement will be made by Chandler and Giles in Cincinnati.

Statement

Chandler, meanwhile, arrived in Knoxville, and said he knew nothing about the completion of severance arrangements.

"I haven't been in touch with them today," he said. "They will have to call me if they have anything to tell me."

In Knoxville to deliver a flag day address last night, Chandler rushed aside all other questions concerning baseball.

"I'm here to talk about Americanism," he said. "I have nothing more to say about baseball."

"We can make no comment until we have spoken with the commissioner," said Will Harridge of Chicago, president of the American League, as the session broke up.

The severance terms are understood to include payment of Chandler's $65,000 salary through next April 30, when his seven year term ends and assurance he will not be financially responsible in any law suits against baseball.

Snead Leads National Open Field

By Will Grimsley

Birmingham, Mich., (AP) —Golfdom's mighty masters from three continents took their worst shellacking from par in modern history yesterday as erratic Sam Snead came stumbling home with a one over 71 for the first round lead in the fifty-first United States Open Championship.

The tempermental slammer from White Sulphur Springs, West Va., held the Oakland Hills ogre by the horn for 14 holes—being three under par at that point—but then he was struck with an attack of old putting jitters to finish with 34-37—71.

The 6,927-yard, par 35-35—70 Oakland Hills course more than measured up to the horrors which the contenders painted in their pre-tournament rounds.

Tough Course

Its gun-barrel fairways and wheat-like rough were so frustrating that defending champion Ben Hogan came in with a 39-37—76, taking a horrendous two-over-par six on the final hole.

Chandler Harper, the thin PGA champion from Portsmouth, Va., picked up in utter disgust after 14 holes. He was seven over par at that juncture.

Snead's 71 gave him a one-stroke advantage going into today's second round over Clayton Heafner, blond, bull-shouldered campaigner from Charlotte, N. C., and Albert Besselink, 27-year-old fledgling professional from Mount Clemens, Mich. They shared 72's.

Nearly a dozen professionals were bracketed at 73 and scores ranged from there all the way to 92, authored by Harold Haddock of Denver, Colo.

South Africa's Bobby Locke, the British Open champion, explored every trap and every stretch of rough on the premises, it seemed, to finish with a scrambling 37-36—73.

Bracketed with him at that figure were Sam Bernardi, Fort Sheridan, Ill. little Paul Runyon, two time PGA winner from Pasadena, Calif.; E. J. "Dutch" Harrison of Little Rock, Ark.; Johnny Palmer of Badin, N. C.; Smiley Quick of Los Angeles, Calif.; Denny Shute, another former PGA champion from Akron, Ohio; Charles "Chuck" Klein of San Antonio, Tex.; Al Brosch of Garden City, N. Y. and Sam Byrd, the one-time New York Yankee ball player from Detroit.

Byrd came to the 459-yard eighteenth hole needing only a par to tie Snead for the lead. The former Babe Ruth understudy trapped his tee shot, chipped onto the fairway, fell short of the green on his third and took three to get in.

Rough Day

Lee Mackey, Jr., of Birmingham, Ala., who set an all-time open record with an opening round 64 at Merion a year ago, settled for a 43-41—84 this sunny, humid day—20 strokes above his 1950 effort.

This was typical of the heartbreak and disappointment that will mark June 14, 1951 as one of the "helpless days" of American golf.

Historians went scurrying into the records to find out the last time par had so completely baffled the great shotmakers of the times.

Chisox Down Senators Twice

Washington (AP)— The Chicago White Sox boosted their American League lead to four and one-half games over the Yankees last night, sweeping a twilight-night doubleheader from Washington, 8-7 and 14-5. The wins were the fourteenth and fifteenth consecutive road victories for the White Sox, leaving them one short of the American league record set by the Senators in 1912 and two shy of the major league mark established by the Giants in 1916.

Hapless Washington, beaten 21 times in its last 24 games, has dropped ten straight to the White Sox since beating them in their first clash this season.

Early Verdict

Chicago tucked the second game away as early as the second inning, capitalizing on the Senators' shoddy defensive play to score six runs on three hits off Al Sima as shortstop Sam Dente and left fielder Gil Coan injected grievious errors. Washington made six errors in the second game.

Louis, Savold Move Into Garden Tonight

By Jack Hand

New York (AP)— Another rainy day yesterday forced the promoters to reschedule the Joe Louis-Lee Savold heavyweight bout for tonight at Madison Square garden after two 24-hour postponements.

The move downtown from the Polo Grounds was prompted by a steady downpour that soaked the open ball park seats and turf. A conflicting night game at the Yankee stadium tonight resulted in the decision to move indoors.

No second weigh-in will be required by the New York State Athletic Commission although both boxers will undergo special physical examinations by Dr. Vincent Nardiello. Louis scaled 211¼, Savold 190 when they weighed in Wednesday noon.

Activity

The postponement sent the International Boxing staff into a flurry of activity, exchanging tickets. None of the old tickets, except general admission, can be used. Some 3,000 generals at $2.50 per went on sale yesterday.

As soon as the postponement was announced, the Gorden office was opened to exchange tickets for similar seats. It was open until 9:00 p. m. last night and will be open all day today, starting at 9:00 a. m. (EDT).

With approximately $25,000 in advance sale, the IBC hopes to crowd close to the $100,000 mark by moving indoors. The house, scaled at $20 tops, could be "well over $100,000" according to Harry Markson, IBC boxing director.

If the double washout has any significance it may be recalled that Louis knocked out Jersey Joe Walcott in 1948 after two rainouts.

"Calm and ready" was the way Manager Bill Daly described Savold. "His fight with Lou Nova was postponed four times,' he said. 'And Lee knocked him out. He's just an old pro."

Rain never bothered Louis. He probably will be a little heavier than he was Wednesday noon. But he just sits and waits for the bell still wishing he was fighting Ezzard Charles for the title rather than Savold.

If Louis beats Savold—and he's a 14 to 5 favorite—he'll get Charles in September, probably at Detroit. If he loses, he'll hang up.

Thompson, Mays Lead Giants To Victory Over Reds, 11-6

Cincinnati, (AP)—Henry Thompson and rookie Willie Mays ripped into Cincinnati pitching for seven of New York's 15 hits yesterday while Larry Jansen made it three straight over the Reds by an 11-6 margin.

Although the Reds banged away at Jansen for 11 hits, they never were able to catch up after New York scored four in the first. Howie Fox and four successors were unable to contain the Giant attack.

Big Drop

The result dumped the Reds, who rode home from the east in second place in the National league jumble.

Thompson opened the run parade with a first-inning single and kept it up all afternoon. Another single in the third, a double in the fifth and a single in the sixth gave him four straight before "Bud" Byerly finally got him out in the eighth.

Mays was almost as rough on the Cincy pitchers. He also singled home runs in the first and fifth and tripled off the left field wall in the seventh after Wes Westrum walked.

Phillies Run Wild Over Cubs, 11-3

Chicago (AP) — Sixteen hits, including Bill Nicholson's first homer of the season, enabled the Philadelphia Phillies to wallop the Chicago Cubs, 11 to 3, yesterday before a Ladies' Day crowd of 12,931.

Russ Meyer breezed to his fourth victory while the Phils knocked out Bob Rush and continued their attack on three other pitchers. It was the seventh loss in eight games for the seventh place Cubs.

Rush was knocked out in the sixth inning after giving up seven of the Phillies' runs. The Cub pitching parade included Cal McLish, Bob Kelly and Johnny Schmitz.

Eddie Waitkus opened the game with a double for the Phils and scored on a single by Willie Jones. Jones then stole second and scored on Dick Sisler's single.

Tie Score

It took the Cubs four innings to tie the score. Frank Baumholtz scored Jack Cusick with a triple in the third and then remained at third while Hank Sauer struck out and Gran Hamner threw out Andy Pafko. Ransom Jackson's walk and successive singles by "Smoky" Burgess and Wayne Terwilliger gave the Cubs their second run in the fourth.

The Phils went to work on Rush in earnest in the fifth inning and chased him to the showers in the sixth, while building up an 8-2 lead. Seminick's walk, a single by Waitkus and Ashburn's double accounted for three runs in the fifth. Rush came out for the sixth, but was gone after Sisler's double and a triple by Mike Goliat. Seminick greeted McLish with a single to score Goliat and a single by Waitkus brought Seminick home after Meyer's sacrifice.

Nicholson's homer followed a single by Del Ennis in the seventh inning. Big Nick drove home the Phils, last run in the eighth.

Date Changed For Donkey Diamond Tilt

Roseto — A donkey baseball game scheduled to be played here at Roseto park tonight has been postponed until Monday, at 8 p. m., due to commencement exercises being held at Bangor High school tonight. Dr. Nicholas Cascario, president of Roseto A. A., announced the change in plans last night.

Top Teams

It was felt that a large number of Roseto fans would be lost at the game due to the high school graduation. A change was made a necessity in order to have a capacity crowd on hand to witness the laugh struggle between the Roseto club and Eighth St. Garage.

The game, as funny as a circus, will feature top teams of two different fields of play. Roseto A. A. is currently leading the Blue Mountain league, while the Eighth Street Garage is the defending title-holder in the Industrial Softball league.

Your Horoscope Today

By FRANCIS DRAKE

FRIDAY

March 21 to April 20 (Aries)—Especially favorable rays for interests concerning our armed forces, for difficult tasks, changes in situations, plans, maneuvers.

April 21 to May 20 (Taurus)—Your Venus aspect here stresses need for unselfishness where matters of import to others should come first.

May 21 to June 21 (Gemini)—General concern for the future more important now than gaining personal wishes if they benefit only one's self.

June 22 to July 23 (Cancer)—The unexpected may happen. Beneficial moves, changes likely; help them along.

July 24 to August 22 (Leo)—Favorable influences for military needs, successes, for courageous deeds. You not afraid to work can make fresh gains in honest endeavors.

August 23 to September 23 (Virgo)—Many useful and needed tasks now could use your able cooperation. In spare time, give some energy and encouragement to charities.

September 24 to October 23 (Libra)—Extra thought, care asked now if handling artistic and delicate items; day tops for rugged things.

October 24 to November 22 (Scorpio)—Your Mars, Uranus and Moon send forth stimulating, benefic rays. Be adequate, equal to demands of your position.

November 23 to December 22 (Sagittarius)—Like most of us, you can make good in any worthy endeavor and while you may not reap all personal gain.

December 23 to January 21 (Capricorn)—The daring and unusual (essential or urgent), dealing in electricity, television, radio, aeronautics among most honored activities this stimulating day.

January 22 to February 20 (Aquarius)—A peak day for your especial talents and interests. Work of unusual nature, scientific research, inventions in forefront now.

February 21 to March 20 (Pisces)—Intriguing period for highly confidential matters, searching out information important to government, Army, Navy, Air Force, science, religion.

YOU BORN TODAY Much diversified talent, inventive genius in your Zodiacal sector but you may at times lack the necessary concentration to achieve your objective or reach the top of the success ladder which you could so well do. It is imperative to cultivate patience for slow-developing projects. Quick returns for labor aren't always the lasting, durable kind. Keep studying, improving the quality of your work, be willing to listen to sound suggestions, follow rightful authority. Pray when troubled and in thanksgiving, too. Dodgers Edge Cardinals On Hodges' Homer

St. Louis, (AP)—Gil Hodges rode his twentieth home run into the left field bleachers after "Duke" Snider singled with two out in the ninth yesterday for Brooklyn's 2-1 edge over St. Louis. One blow off Hodges' bat wiped out the effect of 15 Cardinal hits.

Rookie Joe Presko seemed on the verge of a four-hit shutout as he whizzed past "Pee Wee" Reese and Jackie Robinson in the ninth. Snider's single kept the game alive.

Back-Breaker

Then Hodges delivered his back-breaker to hand the young right-hander his third loss. Carl Erskine, who pitched the last two innings after Ralph Branca was lifted for a pinch hitter, picked up his sixth victory.

It was a day of wasted opportunities for the Cards. Twice they had three hits in an inning and failed to score.

Pirates Shell Braves As Dickson Wins Eighth

Pittsburgh (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates yesterday beat the Boston Braves 9-4 by virtue of a big five-run fourth inning and steady pitching from Murray Dickson.

The smallest home crowd of the year—4,277—turned out to see Dickson win his sixth complete game and his eighth victory of the season. Dickson, who now has beaten every club in the National League, has chalked up eight of the Pirates total of 20 1951 victories.

Bickford Shelled

The Bucs, who have been battling a home field jinx, shelled Vern Bickford, Boston pitcher, in their big fourth inning. That frame was highlighted by Wally Westlake's two run single.

In the next inning, Westlake belted his sixteenth homer off pitcher Bob Chipman. He drove in four Pittsburgh runs during the game.

Auto Thrill Show Postponed Until Tomorrow Due To Rain

Blakeslee—Forced to postpone last night's performance due to the heavy rains, Joie Chitwood's World's Champion Auto Daredevils, recognized as the nation's greatest crew of motor maniacs, have re-scheduled their appearance at the Pocono Sunrise Speedway tomorrow night, with the auto thrillers slated to get under way promptly at 8:30 p. m.

Promoter George Perluke and Charles "Buddy" Wagner, Chitwood unit manager, announced plans yesterday.

Arrangements

"We have made arrangements to handle 3,000 spectators and have installed additional bleacher seats," said Wagner yesterday. "The portable floodlight system we are bringing to Sunrise Speedway Saturday night is one of the best obtainable and we feel certain that the rain date tomorrow night will please many fans in this section who had planned to attend the show."

Indians Use Homers To Sink A's

Philadelphia, (AP) — Cleveland used the home run as its offensive weapon in defeating Philadelphia 3 to 1 last night. Ray Boone and Jim Hegan pounded the round trippers which paved the way for Bob Lemon's seventh hill decision as the Tribe turned on their former teammate southpaw, Sam Zoldak, in the latter's first starting assignment of the year for the A's.

Zoldak held Cleveland scoreless until the sixth when Boone got his fourth circuit clout of the season with one out.

Two More

Then with two away, Harry Simpson singled and Hegan drilled Zoldak's first pitch into the stands, accounting for the big catcher's fifth four baser of the campaign.

Zoldak, who hadn't gone more than one inning in any game in eight relief jobs, lost his touch as the Indians unloaded their heavy bats.

Philadelphia's only run off Lemon crossed in the third on hits by Ferris Fain, Elmer Valo and a fielder's choice and an outfield fly.

Philadelphia's loss was its sixth in succession.

National CAP Chaplain To Speak Here

All flights in the Allentown group of the Civil Air patrol have been extended inviattions to be special guests at a service to be held in the East Stroudsburg Methodist church Sunday night, Rev. Harold E. Eaton, the church pastor, announced last night.

Col. Robert P. Taylor, of Washington, D. C., national chaplain of the Civil Air patrol, will be the speaker.

The Stroudsburgs' CAP unit and a number of others will assemble at the armory on Washington St. at 7 p. m. Sunday and march to the church, according to spokesmen for Lt. Raymond Allegar, commanding officer of the Stroudsburg unit.

The service at the church will commence at 7:30 p. m.

Collision Of Truck, Sedan Results In Injuries To Two

Tannersville—Two persons were slightly injured in an accident which occurred in the rain on Route 611 here at 12:15 p. m. yesterday.

They were Miss Thelma M. Messier, 21-year-old nurse, of Tannersville, who received bruises about her right eye, and Conrad Durst, of Canadensis, who sustained injuries of the forehead and left leg.

Miss Messier was the operator of a 1949 sedan, while Durst was a passenger in the cab of a light truck which was struck by the Messier vehicle. Both were treated by their own physicians.

Pfc. Steven Sabin, of Stroudsburg State police, said Durst was riding with Milton Brinker, 30, of Canadensis, in a truck owned by Brinker.

Brinker was proceeding southward on the highway, and Miss Messier had been driving northward when she slowed down and made a left turn across the southbound lane.

The intense rain at the time limited the vision of the drivers, according to report.

Police said the Messier car was registered in the name of Linwood J. Messier, operator of the Linwood Seafood market at Tannersville. Miss Messier was turning off the highway toward the parking area in front of the market when the accident occurred.

Ben Grauer, the radio commentator, also is a rabid book collector and a member of several bibliographical and literary societies.

Rev. Bawden, Formerly Of Bangor, Dies

Philadelphia (AP)—Rev. William J.Bawden, a veteran of 53 years as a Methodist minister, died Wednesday at his home. He was 76.

Mr. Bawden was a native of Schuylkill county, and taught English in the Bangor, Pa., High school from 1912 until 1924. He served as supply minister at the Methodist church in Glendon, Pa.

For 16 years, he was a member of the statistical staff of the Philadelphia Methodist conference. He served churches in Allentown, Port Carbon and Lehighton, Pa.

Mr. Bawden retired from the active ministry in 1947, after serving as minister of the Providence Methodist church. Philadelphia. Later, he agreed to serve again as pastor of the Orthodox Street Methodist church. He held the post until he died.

After funeral services on Saturday, interment will be private, at Bangor.

Area Youths Win Places In Contests

Two regional youths won places in the agricultural competition at Pennsylvania's Future Farmers of America conference yesterday at Penn State College.

Kenneth Oxford, of Bangor, took sixth place in the poultry contest, and Sanford Reed, of Mt. Pleasant, Wayne county, was sixth in farm mechanics.

Heavy rains throughout the day hampered most events on the second day of the FFA's three-day session. Contests were planned for outdoors but the rain forced them inside.

Annual Wage Tax 'Take' In County Would Exceed $100,000

The controversial one-half of one per cent income tax sought by Gov. John S. Fine . . . subject, together with his budget, to a going over by the 30 Republican senators in special caucus today . . . would cost wage earners here an additional $100,000 in taxes annually, it was estimated yesterday.

The estimate is based on very conservative reports on the number of wage and salaried workers in productive industry, which covers factories or manufacturing plants, employes in service industry such as stores, resorts, etc., and a very conservative application of annual wage and salary averages for this region.

Every source checked for basic facts used to apply the tax rate emphasized the conservative character of their reports.

Sen. Montgomery F. Crowe, one of 11 GOP senators who have been consistently against the income tax, said before his departure for today's caucus that the study will probably last through Saturday and Sunday. He said he will remain in Harrisburg for the reconvening of the legislature Monday.

The senator said he is still convinced that application of a ten per cent cut on all departmental appropriations, re-enactment of the soft drink tax and the $17,000,000 balance, "which will probably go higher" will eliminate necessity for an income, sales or mercantile tax.

Crowe said the caucus will also be attended by Budget Secretary Edward Logan, Auditor General Weldon Heyburn, State Treasurer Charles Barber and Secretary of Revenue Otto Messner.

Preliminary phases of the caucus, he said, are expected to deal with a re-examination of revenues which, like the administration's estimate of returns from an income tax, are believed to be very conservative.

The Monroe senator said he expected a move to bring in department heads on the issue of economies before the caucus ends.

Re-emphasizing his belief that economies in all departmental appropriations can go a long way towards eliminating necessity of taxes, Senator Crowe also disclosed he had not "heard from a soul" in Harrisburg on the tax issue.

This lack of effort to contact the Monroe senator on the part of the Fine administration . . . despite the fact feverish activity has been used all week to realign some strength for the income tax measure . . . was taken here last night as an indicator that the administration feels Senator Crowe is definitely lost to their hopes for additional taxes.

The Associated Press last night carried reports which were completely different on the issue of Fine strength for taxes.

Sen. Fred P. Hare Jr., spokesman for the school teacher interests, said Fine has won over all but two of the 11 GOP senators who oppose the tax.

Sen. John W. Walker, Senator majority leader, differed with a statement that at least 15 Republican solons are still against the one-half of one percent income tax levy.

Johnson Sees Adoption Of Part Of Mac's Program

HST Demands Tougher Controls For At Least Two Years

Senate Unit Blocks Move To Extend Act

Washington, (AP) — President Truman last night demanded "the hardest, toughest kind" of economic controls for at least the next two years. He warned that uncontrolled inflation would bring "the easiest victory the Kremlin could ask for."

Addressing the nation by radio and television, the President called on every American to support his "fight for the very life of this nation." Without controls, he said, inflation might wreck the nation's emergency defense effort and "Communist Russia could win the whole world totalitarianism without firing a shot."

Mr. Truman spoke grimly of this "time of national danger" and said the greatest threat of runaway prices will come next fall, with or without peace in Korea.

He denounced "special interests" for raising what he called a "terrific hullaballo" against controls, and called on Congress to speak for the people by enacting his anti-inflation program. Such a program, he said, must include price controls, wage controls, rent controls, credit controls — "controls that really hold down prices and the cost of living."

"Some of you may not realize that our present powers to control high prices are due to expire in about two weeks—on the 30th of this month," he said. "That leaves just 16 days for the Congress to pass a new law. I repeat—if the Congress does not pass a new law, price controls will expire on June 30."

Earlier yesterday, the Senate Banking committee blocked a stopgap move to extend the defense production act, source of most of the government's economic controls, for nine months beyond June 30. The move was reportedly aimed at giving Congress more time to prepare a new law.

The administration has proposed a bill to extend the act for two years and strengthen its provisions. Yesterday's Senate committee action did not necessarily mean this bill will fail to win support later.

Meantime, the government directed 30,000 clothing manufacturers to figure new price ceilings for everything from underwear to overcoats.

Consumers may get a few breaks under the new regulation, the Office of Price Stabilization said, but on the whole the price of a full wardrobe will remain about the same.

Hitherto the entire wearing apparel industry has been subject to the general price freeze ordered last January. Now OPS has instructed manufacturers to figure out specific ceilings based on prices during base periods before the Korean war, plus specified cost increases since then. The new price tags must be on by August 15.

Officials were figured there will be some decreases at retail for clothing made of cotton or synthetic material. Woolen articles will rise in price somewhat.

State Policeman Slain; Assailant Makes Getaway

Oneonta, N. Y., (AP)—A State police corporal was slain yesterday on the outskirts of this upstate New York town and 150 of his fellow troopers turned out to track down the killer.

Police said the slayer may have thumbed a ride for Albany after abandoning the truck he had been driving when he shot Cpl. Arthur M. Diffendale, 33, of Otego.

Deland (right), and his sister, Mrs. Pat McDononaugh, comes about in Seattle, Wash., as result of the death of another Marine with the same name. When the parents divorced in 1933, the brother went with his father and it was only the finding of the family name on a casualty list which caused the re-married mother to trace her son through Marine records.

26 American Sailors Die As Underwater Explosion Damages Destroyer Walke

Washington, (AP)—An underwater explosion—believed caused by a Communist mine—ripped the U. S. Destroyer Walke in Korean waters last Tuesday, killing 26 men and injuring seven others.

A Navy announcement yesterday said the 2,200-ton destroyer's hull was damaged but she made a Japanese port under her own power. The announcement added the explosion was "presumably caused by a floating mine."

A Navy spokesman said the explosion tore a gash about six by 15 feet in the Walke's hull aft on the port side. He added that this is the area containing most living compartments which probably accounted for the relatively high death toll.

The spokesman placed the scene of the explosion at about 65 miles east of Pusan, the South Korean port. He said the Walke is now in the Japanese port of Sasebo.

It was the eighth U. S. Naval vessel to be sunk or damaged by enemy action since the Korean war began and raised the Navy's casualty toll at 48 dead, 122 wounded and 36 missing. It marked the heaviest single casualty toll for the Navy.

Two other destroyers, the Brush and Mansfield, were damaged by mines, another was hit by shore batteries, as was the battleship New Jersey, and four minesweepers were sunk or damaged.

Adm. Forrest Sherman, U. S. chief of Naval operations, told the Senate's MacArthur inquiry committee last month that a large number of Russian-made mines have been planted in Korean waters. He added that presumably the Chinese Communists are laying them off Korean shores.

Six Escape Execution

Trenton, N. J. (AP)— Four of six Trenton Negroes — once all condemned to die for murder—were freed yesterday and two were sent to prison for life after their third trial.

Accused of slaying an elderly white shopkeeper with a pop-bottle in a 1948 holdup, the men were made an international left-wing cause when they all were sentenced to the electric chair in their first trial. A second trial ended in a mistrial.

The New Jersey Supreme court ordered a new trial but condemned the Civil Rights congress, which stirred a campaign here and abroad calling the case "lynching—northern style."

Labeled a subversive Communist-front by the government, the CRC took its lawyers out of the retrial but continued mass agitation. It was the CRC which tagged the case the "Trenton Six."

Gen. M'Arthur Hits Campaign Of 'Confusion'

Houston, Tex. (AP)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur declared last night there is a campaign under way in the United States to "prevent the truth" and to confuse the people.

He said a feeling of fear is being generated throughout the nation "by the constant but false propaganda that we are weak—that we are not prepared to defend ourselves against any who may attack."

And he added there can be "no surer incitation to attack on the United States than the lack of confidence Americans show in themselves."

The general spoke before a crowd unofficially estimated at less than 10,000 people—far short of the 70,000 who had been expected to jam the huge Rice Institute stadium.

There were vast expanses of bare concrete across which MacArthur looked as he began his second address before a Texas audience.

He said this "propaganda' is that 'we must appease and compromise to encourage others to desist from attacking."

And then he added:

"There could be no greater illusion—no surer indication to attack us—than the lack of confidence we thus show in ourselves.

"It is not from threat of external attack that we have reason to fear. It is from those insidious forces working from within."

Speaking on these "insidious forces" MacArthur said:

"It is they that create the basis for fear by spreading false propaganda designed to destroy those moral precepts to which we have clung for direction since the immutable declaration of our independence became the great charter of our liberty."

He said this "campaign to prevent the truth and shape and confuse the public mind with its consequent weakening of moral courage" cannot be charged entirely to Communists.

"For they have many allies," he said, "here, as elsewhere, who, blind to reality, ardently support the general Communist aims while reacting violently to the mere suggestion that they do so."

He declared there are those who 'subvert morality" as a means to gain or "entrench power." And he added: "There are those who, believing themselves liberals, chart a course which can but lead to destruction."

The crowd was small but it was noisy and frequently interrupted the general with bursts of applause.

In his speech, General MacArthur made one remark which seemed to be a reference to his ouster by President Truman.

He said:

"There are those who seek to prevent men from fearlessly speaking their minds according to the dictates of their conscience."

And then the general took a slap at the domestic policies of the Truman administration by saying:

"There are those who seek to make the burden of taxation so great and the progressive increased so alarming that the spirit of adventure, tireless energy and masterful initiative which built the material strength of the nation shall become stultified and inert.

Allied Tanks Prowl Central Korean Front; Reds Fight Back East, North Of Triangle

Tokyo, (AP)—Allied tank teams prowled the central Korean front almost unopposed today and patrols lashed six miles northward in the west, but the Reds fought back fiercely in the east.

Armored teams found the once-vaunted Communist "iron triangle" in the center almost empty of Reds. But east and south of the flatlands of the Chorwon-Kumhwa-Pyonggang triangle the going was touch.

AP Correspondent Tom Bradshaw reported from U. S. Eighth Army headquarters that Communists fought a series of sharp skirmishes near Kumhwa, southeast anchor of the old triangle, and near Yanggu at the eastern end of Hwachon reservoir.

Southeast of Kumhwa, Red troops recaptured a hill they had lost only an hour before. Then they suddenly withdraw to the north.

Allied observers said that every bit of high ground north of Kumhwa was held by Reds who were well dug in.

Allied forces beat off several small-scale probing attacks northeast of Yanggu. Small bands of ranging Reds fighting with rifles, machineguns and hand grenades hampered Allied patrols and forced a series of sharp skirmishes northeast of the big reservoir.

Patrols ranged nearly four miles deep into the no-man's-land north of Chorwon without finding a sign of Communists.

On the extreme western front, Allied patrols thrust six miles ahead of their lines without opposition.

Two unidentified planes bombed the area south of Seoul yesterday one plane dropped four bombs on Seoul's southern suburb of Yongdongpo and later strafed the town. A second plane dropped four bombs over Suwon airfield, 25 miles south of Seoul. This was the farthest south Red planes had struck in months. Results were not disclosed.

A mightly Allied Armored thrust Wednesday rolled through Pyonggang, 28 miles north of parallel 38 and apex of the Red assembly area.

McCarthy Attacks Marshall As Official Who Lost Peace

Washington, (AP)—Senator McCarthy (R-Wis) pictured Gen. George C. Marshall yesterday as a "mysterious, powerful" figure who sided with Russia in historic decisions which "lost the peace" for the United States.

McCarthy spoke for nearly three hours with criticism after criticism of Marshall, now secretary of defense and chief of staff of the Army during the war.

He also lashed out anew at Secretary of State Acheson as a man whose allegiance is "to the Kremlin" and pictured President Truman as a man who does not understand great issues confronting him.

"I think it is clear," McCarthy said, "That in these great matters of life and death, Truman is in the custory of Marshall and Acheson."

McCarthy said Marshall:

First. "More often than not" swayed the wartime opinions of President Roosevelt to the Russian side, away from the British.

Second. Once concealed information that the Japanese were reaching for peace and urged "the grim necessity of bribing Stalin to get into the war."

Third. Took the Russian side in insisting on an invasion of France to strike at the Germans from the west rather than from the south of Europe.

Fourth. Imposed an embargo on arms to the Chinese Nationalists which "perhaps more than any other factor made the victory of Russian imperialism in China inevitable."

Fifth. Is teaming up now with Acheson to impose a "phoney and fraudulent peace" in Korea.

Robbers Get $42,000 Loot

Warren, O., (AP) — Four gunmen, their faces masked with white handkerchiefs, forced a car to the side of Route 45 yesterday and stole $42,000 in cash from two credit union officials.

State Patrolman C. F. Shaw said the bandits kidnaped the two men, but released them unharmed about three miles from the scene of the holdup.

The victims were Harlan Viller, 29, secretary, and Tom Trifilette, 49, assistant treasurer of the Aristoly Federal Credit union, which operates a type of payroll savings plan.

One of the union's functions is cashing payrolls checks at Copperweld Steel Co., north of here.

In preparation for a Copperweld pay day today, the two union officials drew the $42,000 from the Union Savings & Trust Co. Bank here yesterday afternoon. They were headed for the plant in their car when the holdup occurred.

Jacksonville, Fla., (AP)—Seven crewmen died and two were seriously hurt when a Navy patrol plane crashed and burned in a piney marshland several miles south of here yesterday.

Senate Cuts Appropriation For Agencies

Washington (AP) —An economy-minded Senate yesterday approved a trimmed down $2,538,338,000 budget bill for two government agencies. The bill would pinch off ten percent in payroll funds for the Federal Security agency (FSA) and the Labor department — a saving of about $11,700,000.

The bill is about $120,000,000 less than the amount approved in the House and $225,000,000 under President Truman's budget estimate.

The bill now goes to conference with the House. The House wants to reduce the number of Federal employes by filling only one of four job openings rather than by slashing appropriations outright.

It was the Senate's first action on money bills for the next fiscal year, starting July 1. And it served notice on other government departments and agencies that they, too, may feel the axe.

Big Tax Bill Sent To House

Washington (AP)—A record $7,233,000,000 tax increase cleared the House Ways and Means committee yesterday for House consideration next Wednesday.

A staff expert said he knows of no single previous revenue bill carrying such a large total. Even so, it is less than three-fourths of the $10,000,000,000 extra bite President Truman urgently requested months ago.

RELEASED BY THE ATOMIC ENERGY COMMISSION, this photo shows a dome-like cloud rising from the water off Eniwetok atoll, in the South Pacific, during the recent tests of the latest super-Atomic bomb. It is declared to be five times as powerful as any A-bomb yet exploded. At a news conference in Washington, top atomic officials announced that the U. S. has the "know-how" to build an H-bomb and that the results of the recent tests exceeded all expectations.

Warns Against Letting Russia Bleed Us Dry

Washington, (AP) — Former Secretary of Defense Louis Johnson said yesterday "we are just drifting" in the Korean war and declared that part of the MacArthur program may have to be adopted to end the "blood letting."

Gen. Douglas MacArthur, ousted as supreme Far East commander, has called for bombing enemy targets in Manchuria, a naval blockade of Red China, and the use of Chinese Nationalist troops in the struggle against Communist aggression.

Johnson also testified that the Truman administration at time reflected "seeming hostility" toward Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's Chinese National government.

He said that when he was defence chief in 1949-50, the military high command was seeking to speed up aid to the Nationalists, but he declared:

"Without being able to give you the details, the definite feeling I had—there was a dragging of feet, an effort to delay."

In day-long testimony before the Senate MacArthur inquiry committee, Johnson said that the State department "wanted to sell the President on the idea that we have no interest in Formosa."

Formosa is the seat of the Chinese Nationalist government.

"Generally speaking," Johnson said, "it seemed to me that the State department was critical of and did not support the (Chinese Nationalist) government we recognized."

Senator Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) told Johnson that the administration's present policy in the Korean war is "merely to stand as a wall and let Communism, the aggressors, wear themselves out against that wall of flesh."

Johnson: "I think we are just drifting. I am trying to be a good boy today, or I would talk on that subject, too."

Asked whether he thought the administration's course is the best way " to give us victory with the least loss of life and the least danger." Johnson replied:

"At the moment, today, yes. Tomorrow we may have to be more aggressive."

Johnson warned against letting Russia "bleed us dry in Korea forever."

Chairman Russell (D-Ga) asked Johnson to return for further questioning today—the 36th day of the Senate hearings on the ouster of General MacArthur and the controversy over the administration's far east policies.

Questioned by Sen. Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex), the former defense head testified he would not pull American troops out of Korea as suggested by Lt. Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer in earlier testimony.

"Was it your view in 1949 that the fall of Formosa was probable?" The Texas senator asked.

"I thought the program then being followed by this government made its fall in time certain, and that is what I was protesting against," the former secretary said.

With guarded bitterness, Johnson lashed out at Secretary of State Acheson and told the senators frankly he was "hurt" when President Truman dropped him from the Cabinet last fall.

Senator Hickenlooper asked Johnson if he resigned because he felt that "the State department was in the ascendancy in fixing policy in the east, both military and political."

In reply, Johnson ticked off a series of differences he said arose between himself and Acheson, including policy over Formosa, Spain, and a Japanese peace treaty.

Large Number Of Tickets Sold For Ball

The rush for tickets to the colorful 1951 Laurel Blossom Time Festival ball, fashion show and coronation ceremonies for Miss Ruth Hussey, glamorous screen and stage star, piled up yesterday as planners moved ahead with arrangements to provide dramatic staging for the show and coronation at Shawnee inn on June 20.

Miss Hussey was obtained for the Laurel Queen role by Mrs. Rowena Stevens, owner-operator of Pocono Playhouse. Miss Hussey will star in "The Royal Family" at the playhouse in Canadensis on June 25.

Ed Strickland of Strickland's Mountain inn near Mount Pocono sent a check for $260 to cover 52 Laurel ball tickets, to Walter Fossa, director of the celebration in Pocono Mountains Chamber of Commerce headquarters in Stroudsburg.

Mr. Strickland has sold 40 tickets by mail to guests who have not yet arrived at his hotel. He is taking 12 for his own group.

Anticipating sale of 36 more tickets, Mr. Strickland said yesterday: "We believe everyone in the Poconos will reap great benefits from the tremendous impact of the publicity that has so far been felt as far away as 1,000 miles."

Soaring sales were boosted by Harry Ahnert of Club Fernwood near Bushkill who ordered 12 tickets and Billy Soose, Lake Wallenpaupack, who wrote for 24 ticket reservations. Irwin Shinnen of Onawa lodge, will head a Barrett contingent heading for Shawnee, while Fred Schneider, Forrest inn and LeRoy Dengler, Hawthorne inn placed their orders yesterday.

Blocks of from four to 12 tickets have been taken by Ed Driebe, Jerry Avalon, Harold Kreck, Bigg's restaurant, John Zigler, Roger Tambella, Walt Peeney, Vogt and Sons, Tri-State News, Ambassador Letter Service, Mike Landi, Merry Hill lodge, Skyline inn, George Graff, John Brislin, Gerald P. O'Neill, Elton Hall, John C. Valence, John M. Crandall of Pocono Manor. Many others have phoned in orders.

John Stubblefield, general manager of Shawnee inn, said yesterday anyone wishing a table reserved for cocktails can make these arrangements by calling the matre d' hotel at Stroudsburg 140.

Advance tickets for the ball, however, are still available at Chamber of Commerce office and other points throughout Pocono region.

Livestock Farmers To Take Trip

The growing importance of Pennsylvania's livestock industry and a man who has given a lifetime of service to that industry will share a dual recognition next Monday at the Pennsylvania State College, with Monroe County farmers and others taking part.

County Agent A. E. Ifft says many of those planning to attend from this and surrounding counties know personally William B. Connell, extension livestock specialist, who is to receive the individual honors. Connell, on the college staff 33 years, retires on June 30.

Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower, president of the college, will give the address of welcome, and preside for a friendly, formal salute to Professor Connell. Speakers will include State Director J. M. Fry, of the Agricultural Extension service, with which Connell has been identified ever since his graduation from Penn State on April 26, 1918.

From 9:30 a.m. to 12 the college livestock will be on display at the barns and in the fields. Carroll Shaffner, college shepherd, will demonstrate use of sheep dogs. J. A. Christian, extension livestock specialist, will cut up a lamb carcass to show proper meat cutting methods.

The Federal Reserve Bank in Philadelphia, covering the Monroe county region, said yesterday that commercial and financial activity in the district during April was maintained at about the same high level as in the previous month with most business indicators showing little or no change. For the second consecutive month, the movement of the consumer price index was fractional.

Federal Reserve said retail buying during the month was relatively quiet, department store sales showed a slight improvement over March, and compared with a year ago, they were up only two per cent, the smallest gain for any month this year. It is quite evident, the bank said, in view of today's higher prices, that physical volume is below that of April, 1950. Stocks rose during the month, and at the end of April the ration of stocks to sales was 4.2 compared with 3.9 last year.

Business loans of Third district reporting member banks increased less than one per cent in the four weeks through May 23, and there was little change in real estate and consumer loans.

Nation's money supply rose in April, reflecting in part a shift in deposits from Government to private accounts as tax receipts were spent.

Russell H. Minich

Russell H. Minich, a resident of the Reeders section of Jackson township for the past 28 years, said yesterday he will make an aggressive campaign for the Republican nomination as county commissioner at the July 24 primary election.

Mr. Minich has been a director and secretary of the Jackson township board of school directors for the past 12 years. He is a native of Allentown and received his education in schools of that community.

Since World War Two, Mr. Minich has retired. Prior to that time he had been identified with Malleable Iron and Steel Industry for many years as eastern representative with headquarters in Philadelphia.

Mr. Minich has been associated with numerous civic and service organizations and projects in this county.

He is married to the former Emily C. Gernerd, daughter of the late Dr. E. E. Gernerd, of Bethlehem, who for many years had a home at Keller's Mill in the McIlhaney section of Chestnuthill township. Mrs. Gernerd is a sister to Dr. R. P. Gernerd, Effort and sister of Mrs. William H. Glick, wife of Dr. Glick, Reeders, Pa.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Minich have been members of the West End Republican club for many years.

Pfc. Hagerty Studying At Sheppard Base

Sheppard Air Force Base, Texas —Pfc. William B. Hagerty, 21, son of Blake Hagerty, 720 Scott St., Stroudsburg, recently entered the Airplane and Engine Mechanics school at Sheppard Air Force base, the home of the largest technical school of this type in the world.

Hagerty, who was the official "weatherman" for The Daily Record for the past few years, is a graduate of Stroudsburg High school. He was employed by the Line Material Co. before he entered the Air Force.

During his 22-week course as a student at Sheppard he will receive intensive training designed to provide him with the thorough knowledge and the basic skills required in servicing, inspecting and maintaining every type of aircraft currently used by the USAF.

Upon graduation he will be awarded the rating of airplane and engine mechanic and probably will be assigned to one of the major Air Force commands for on-the-job experience.

Trade Board Holds Election Of Officers

Portland—The Board of Trade recently held a steak dinner at Otto's Grandview restaurant in Delaware Water Gap at which time election of officers for the coming year was held.

Members unanimously re-elected were Otto Hochrein, president; Clifford Sebring, vice-president; Max Effross, treasurer; and Rene Zeutzius, secretary. Directors chosen were Henry Webb, Frank Fitzgerald, J. J. Lewis, Sidney Effross, William Cowell, and Orville Miller.

E. Albert Boyer, county commissioner and secretary of the Northampton County Chamber of Commerce, was the guest speaker. He spoke on county government and explained the operations of the county commissioners' office.

The next meeting will be a dinner on Wednesday, July 11, at the Portland house. Business to be discussed at the meeting will deal with the formation of a stronger and finer Boy Scout unit in the area. Henry Webb, J. J. Lewis, and Rene Zeutzius will be in charge of the arrangements.

Police Charge East Borough Man With Drunken Driving

An East Stroudsburg man suffered slight injuries shortly after 1:15 a. m. yesterday when the car he was driving ran off Route 209 three miles west of Stroudsburg and struck a service company pole.

The driver and sole occupant of the sedan, Charley E. Rowe, 51, of 206 Washington St., in the east borough, was treated by a Stroudsburg physician who also found him to be under the influence of intoxicating liquor.

Stroudsburg State police committed him to Monroe county jail pending arraignment later yesterday before Justice of the Peace William N. Walton, of Stroudsburg. At that time, Rowe waived hearing and was released under a $300 bond.

State troopers said Rowe was driving east on Route 209 when the vehicle, a 1940 sedan owned by Stewart Rowe, of Henryville, veered off the wet highway and struck the power line pole.

The pole was well scraped but not broken by the impact, although the front right section of the sedan was dented and bent out of line. Damages were estimated at approximately $150.

Police said investigation is being continued.

HOW LONG CAN HE IGNORE IT?

Highway Casualty Lists

The heavy travel season is here. It has been evident in the Pocono Mountains region for several days and it brings to mind that about this time each year we appeal to the good sense of every motor vehicle operator regarding rules of behavior on the highways.

July, one of the peak travel months, last year killed only 900 fewer Americans than were killed in the Revolutionary war.

That ironic fact underlines the nation-wide campaign to reduce accidents, especially on the nations highways over the Fourth of July—the day which commemorates that victorius struggle for independence.

The Revolutionary war cost 4,044 patriots who were killed in action or who died of wounds. Traffic accidents last July killed 3,150 persons.

Tragic as war is, the number of Americans killed in traffic accidents since the invention of the automobile is nearly twice as great as the number killed in combat in all the nation's wars.

While the calendar will save lives this year, since the Fourth will fall in mid-week and bring only a one-day holiday for most persons, it and many other Summer days will be days of tragedy unless common-sense rules of behavior are observed.

We suggest these very few simple rules be followed:

Start your trip early enough so that you won't have to hurry. Take it easy.

Be patient in heavy traffic. Don't let annoyance make you take chances.

Be careful in recreation, especially in swimming and boating.

Fanny Brice

Many people find it hard to believe that Fanny Brice who died recently in Los Angeles, was almost 60 years old. They were the ones who knew her only via radio, as the impish "Baby Snooks."

But her career on the stage began more than four decades ago and she was a shining star of the earliest "Ziegfeld Follies."

Her comic genius made millions laugh, yet she could as easily bring a hard-boiled audience to the point of tears. And to hear her sing "My Man" was a memorable experience.

And so many who were privileged to see and hear Fanny Brice in bygone years feel a sense of almost personal loss, and think of her with affectionate regret.

Dads for a Day

Airmen at Olmsted Base in Middletown, Pennsylvania's major U. S. air base, are setting a good example for all of us. They intend to do something about Father's Day for kids who might otherwise be unable to have a bit of fun with Dad.

The airmen will be "Dads for a Day" and the day will include:

Chow (chicken) games and an inspection trip around the air base.

It should be fun for the kids and the dads.

More people might try something of the same kind.

Good News for Epicures

A big pie season is ahead for Pennsylvania epicures.

The heart of many a male of the species—and, of course, of a lot of the fairer sex, too—has been gladdened by word from the State Department of Agriculture that there is to be a bumper crop of cherries and peaches. And it won't be long, either.

If you haven't tasted pies out of Monroe county's famous kitchens — particularly those in the West End, as only a Pennsylvania housewife can bake them, you just haven't the semblance of an idea of what is good eating.

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

A stoutish lady cornered Toscanini at a reception and cooed, "Maestro, can you ever forget that night in Milan when I sat next to you and they served that wonderful macaroni pie?" The maestro answered coldly, "Your face escapes me completely, but I distinctly recall the macaroni."

When the Mobile and Southern Railroad explained to Deacon Smedley that a proposed cut-off would run right through the spot where his barn stood, and offered him ten times the worth of the property for his consent, Smedley astounded everybody, his wife in particular, by turning a deaf ear to the proposal. He defended his stand to his outraged wife by shouting, "Dang it, do ye think I'm goin' to keep running out to that barn day and night to open and shut the door every time they want to run a train through?"

Hollywood—Remnants a roving reporter remembers—

Gigantic Buddy Bear dwarfing big Victor Mature as they shook hands outside a sound stage... Luther Adler's toothbrush mustache and Nazi uniform—he's playing Hitler in "The Desert Fox."...Pert Debbie Reynolds, who bring out the adoring uncle instinct in me, studio-lunching in fire-engine-red pedal-pushers...

Marjorie Main scratching her hip in "Mr. Imperium". Presumably she's stuck with massaging her own anatomy in pictures since starting it, as slovenly Ma Kettle in "The Egg and I."... Director Pop Leonard watching with open mouth while his actors do a perfect take—and then shouting "Good—good—okay!"..

June Allyson, gushing: "You should see my little boy" (born last Christmas Eve). "He's a miniature Richard." (That's what she calls husband Dick Powell.) "It's like someone had taken Richard's head and shrunken it down. The long upper lip, the turned-up nose. He's so cute!"..

Hairy-chested Bill Holden lunching in a studio commisary. He'd worn a bathrobe from the set where he was a wounded soldier in a back-of-the-lines hospital...Producer Jerry Wald wiggling his fingers in imitation sign language at Jane Wyman. Presumably a good-luck gesture on their new picture. He produced "Johnny Belinda," in which she won an Oscar as a deaf-mute...

Surprising how many people pronounce it "marleen." But Marlene Dietrich herself says it's "mar-lay-na."...Bob Cummings flew his director to an inland resort the other Sunday. Next day his fellow actors gibed: "He doesn't just take the director an apple. He takes the director to Apple Valley!"...

These Days -- By George E. Sokolsky

Sokolsky

Leahy's Testimony

One of the items omitted from the Russell Committee Investigation was the Honolulu Conference of 1944. President Roosevelt went to the Pacific to straighten out any differences between General MacArthur and Admiral Nimitz on how to fight Japan. Admiral William D. Leahy, in his book, "I Was There," says:

"These two meetings were much more peaceful than I had expected after what I had been hearing in Washington. Here in Honolulu we were working with facts, not with the emotional reactions of politicians. MacArthur had shown exceptional ability early in his army career and his rise had been rapid. It was no secret that in the Pentagon building in Washington there were men who disliked him, to state the matter mildly . . . I personally was convinced that MacArthur and Nimitz were, together, the two best qualified officers in our service for this tremendous task. Nimitz promised that he would give the Army commander the needed transportation and naval support. Both told the president they had what they needed, that they were not asking for anything, and that they would work together in full agreement toward the common end of defeating Japan."

Further, Admiral Leahy wrote: "We had a special meeting of the joint chiefs in which I gave them a detailed report of the Honolulu conference. They may have been somewhat surprised to learn that Nimitz and MacArthur said they had no disagreements at the moment and that they could work out their joint plans in harmony . . . "

The astonishment of the joint chiefs of staff must have been great indeed, for already there were numerous rumors and reports of how difficult MacArthur was and how he and the Navy were having a tough time. Actually, this was not so, and the rumors undoubtedly were designed to lessen General MacArthur's influence and the weight of his views.

The basic question was whether the Philippines were to be bypassed and Japan attacked directly. Leahy says:

"MacArthur was convinced that an occupation of the Philippines was essential before any major attack in force should be made on Japanese-held territory north of Luzon. The retaking of the Philippines seemed to be a matter of great interest to him. He said that he had sufficient ground and air forces for the operation and that his only additional needs were landing craft and naval support."

So General MacArthur and Admiral Nimitz, sitting with President Roosevelt in Honolulu, stipulated, according to Admiral Leahy:

". . . MacArthur and Nimitz were now in agreement that the Philippines should be recovered with ground and air power then available in the western Pacific and that Japan could be forced to accept our terms of surrender by the use of sea and air power without an invasion of the Japanese homeland."

It is important to note that Russia was at this time in no way associated with the Far Eastern war. Russia was a neutral and strictly so. It was MacArthur's theory that if he could cut Japan off from her conquered territory, seize the shipping and air lanes, he would reduce the availability of rice and raw materials and that he would defeat Japan without attacking her directly and thus save a great many American lives. This was accomplished.

This Honolulu conference is important in any understanding of the long series of events which Congress is now investigating. Yet, it has thus far not even been considered. For instance, Dean Acheson has defended Yalta on the grounds that Russia could have taken anything she wanted to take. But Russia was not even in the far eastern war at the time that the strategy of the Pacific war was designed at Honolulu. At no point in Admiral Leahy's recital of what occurred at Honolulu was Russia given any consideration.

But they talked about England. This is what Leahy says in his book:

"Nimitz and MacArthur discussed with the president the role that the British, especially the Royal Navy, would play in the final operations against Japan... There were reports that some elements in Churchill's government were in favor of obtaining a controlling interest in the Dutch East Indies once they had been recaptured. It was MacArthur's contention that the British should not be allowed to assume control of any territory that we recaptured from the enemy. I suspected that the Australians, in this matter, were in complete agreement with MacArthur."

All this might be included in the record. Maybe it explains why the British and the pro-British elements in this country are so antagonistic to MacArthur.

Washington Report

By Fulton Lewis Jr.

President Truman, by executive decree, has appeased labor bosses who are shooting for a 5,000,000 man membership increase during the national defense build-up period.

In issuing his executive order setting up the Wage Stabilization board, the President signed away most of the functions of the Taft-Hartley labor relations law.

Accomplishing this has been a prime desire of Mr. Truman's ever since Congress shoved the law down his throat following a presidential veto.

Now most major labor disputes will be adjudicated by the Wage Stabilization board, which has the power to grant concessions to labor bosses. In effect, the presidential decree puts a shotgun in the hands of labor bosses who will use it for holding administration politicians in line.

The Taft-Hartley act provides a few safety valves which protect non-union and union members alike. Principally, it carries an "insurance" clause against crackpot strikes or those promoted for the benefit of labor bosses who seek political gain. Its approval by Congress ushered in an astounding period of labor peace by virtually eliminating the lunatic fringe of labor bosses who issue strike ultimatums every time their blood pressure climbs above 160.

The President's knuckling under to labor bosses in signing the Wage Stabilization board order built a fire under representative Tom Werdel, California Republican who knows more about labor law gimmicks than three-fourths of the members of Congress. He came up fast with a cure for the President's action, after deriding the "bureaucratic Cossacks riding through the halls of Congress."

Werdel proposes a "democracy in union act" required a 45 day strike notice to cover labor disputes regardless of whether a labor-management contract exists. Under the Taft-Hartley act a 60 day strike notice is mandatory—but only when a contract exists.

With labor bosses shoving off on a big drive for new members and plant unionization demands in the midst of burgeoning defense production it is vital to apply the same safety valves contained in the Taft-Hartley act for non-contract plants.

Werdel wants Congress to approve a mandatory mail strike ballot clause in his democracy in union act, calling for a mail strike vote whenever conciliation between managment and labor bogs down. The Taft-Hartley act contains no mandatory provisions for a strike vote except in cases where a national emergency exists.

Under Werdel's bill no strike would be legal unless a 45 day notice is issued. If no agreement is reached at the end of that time a secret strike ballot, conducted by mail, would be mandatory, irrespective of whether or not a contract exists. Union members would have 15 days in which to discuss the strike, its ultimate results and the management offer, while the NLRB polls them on striking.

Safety precautions for maintaining the secrecy and honesty of the strike ballot would be guaranteed by sending the ballots through the mail. As Werdel points out, propaganda tricks to sway union voting in favor of strikes, as employed by labor bosses in hectic, mass labor meetings, would be alleviated. A man and his wife could sit down at home and discuss the issues in private under Werdel's law. Union halls, which are usually of a size wherein only a fragment of the membership can gather, would be eliminated as a factor in strike votes.

In addition Werdel's proposal provides that no officer of a labor organization may continue to hold office unless a free election is held every two years. This would be pretty rough on some of the union bosses who have wangled lifetime jobs and now never even bother with the formality of an election, to say nothing of an accounting of union funds.

Werdel maintains that as it now stands the patriotic American union member is unable to make his actions effective in controlling his union boss, and that he also is unable to aid in halting the creeping socialism of a labor boss-bureaucratic coalition set up under the Wage Stabilization board. He thinks his bill would remedy both these complaints.

Main Stem bijous are celebrating Pecan Week: There are three current films dealing with insanity. Happy straitjacket! . . . Those whodunit - wrong radio dramas would be more entertaining if they all didn't sound like feeble echoes of old Bogart cinemas . . . The boom is on at the Riviera, with Tony Martin putting the velvet in ballads . . . This reporter turned in a 10-hour stint on the Berlethon. We were on teevy almost as long as though our regular Sunday Nighter had been telecast a full season (45 weeks), which would total 11¼ hours . . . The gag sweeping The Stem is the one about the difference between Frustration and Panic. (I liiiiike it, I liiiiike it!). Will swap it for $1 to fight cancer.

Clap hands! One of the few anti-Red films to do whiz biz is: "I Was a Communist for the FBI." It is among May's top 10 grossers . . . Hollywood is like this: A movie mag reports Stanwyck and Taylor have discovered how much they love each other—since they were divorced . . . Although vaude acquired new glands two years ago, it is slowly fading away again. Numerous hinterland theatres are dropping stage shows . . . Add bafflers: The Roxy advertised a "sneak" preview!

Trend of the times: The play, "Goodbye, My Fancy," had an anti-war theme. The film version concerns academic freedom . . . Show biz is big biz: Admish taxes alone average $26,000,000 monthly . . . It's never a cinch. Shirley ("A Tree Grows in Brooklyn") Booth hit stardom after trouping for a quarter century . . . The British movie, "Oliver Twist" (damned by many as inciting bigotry), was released in the hinterlands recently and is turning out to be a financial dud. No tears, please.

Talk about talent abuse: Former Broadway stars are doing 1-minute teevy singing commershills . . . "My Life's Desire" is strictly for male cadenza-jugglers. Its lyrics sound silleh when thrushed by femme larks . . . Have an eyebrow-lifter: The Critics' Circle prizewinner, "Darkness at Noon," is not among Variety's list of the season's clicks . . . Robert Merrill's platter of "The Girls We Never Did Wed" gives his resonant tones a nice workout . . . Gene Baylos' guesting on teevy indicates he rates his own show. His fool-de-rol inspires belt-buckle guffaws . . . West Coast radio crowns are still making the mistake of aiming quips at locals.

Looking at Life

By Erich Brandeis

Brandeis

One of the defects in today's world is college professors.

Not that I haven't the highest respect for the profession. Most of its practitioners are admirable citizens and do a fine and useful job.

But too many of them sit in ivory towers and have entirely too little contact with what is going on outside.

They move in restricted circles and have to maintain social standings completely out of proportion to their incomes. Environment, background and traditions make intellectual snobs of them.

Then some of these frustrated fellows sit down and write pessimistic books, based not on facts but on their own inhibitions and fallacies, and hang crepe on the doors of their students and the world in general.

Unfortunately a lot of people think that everything said or written by a professor is the gospel and the law. Few of us ordinary folks who haven't spent as many years within the cloistered walls of colleges and universities nor given so much time to books, dare contradict them.

A book just published, entitled "After the Lost Generation," illustrates my point.

This book, written by John W. Aldridge, a young professor at the University of Vermont, drools pessimism.

It drools it so much, that the review in one of New York's two most important book sections, is headed as follows:

"ALL THE DISILLUSIONED YOUNG MEN
"From Hemingway to Mailer, the Mood
"Persist That Life Now Is Meaningless."

Let me quote a paragraph from the review, which was also written by a college professor—Robert Gorham Davis, associate professor of English at Smith College.

"For Aldridge," says Davis, "the discovery that modern life is meaningless was made by the first generation, whose illusions were destroyed by the war, and confirmed and repeated by the second generation, which had already learned, from reading the works of their predecessors, NOT TO HAVE ANY ILLUSIONS."

That, of course, is stuff and nonsense.

I belong to that first generation of which the reviewer speaks. I still have illusions and so have many of my contemporaries. To us life today has more meaning than ever before. More and more is to be done. More problems arise and must be solved.

I make it a point to keep in close contact with that "second generation," which in Davis' opinion haes learned not to have any illusions.

Don't these professors UNDERSTAND their students? Those modern youngsters are so chuck full of illusions, of hopes, of aspirations, of resolves to make this a better world that NO adult can keep up with them!

A lot of these "disillusioned" writers are really psychopathic cases. Many of them are disillusioned because they have had dreams of greatness, of fame, of riches in which they have been frustrated.

Fortunately this country is not made up of WRITERS and PROFESSORS but of DOERS.

Here in America the ILLUSIONS of the young of each generation become ACTIONS and ACHIEVEMENT. While the DELUSIONS of the DISILLUSIONED become coffins of the mind.

The Once Over

Doorbell Ringers, Arise!

Now we know why the United States Supreme Court has been acting so ornery about things lately. It used to be steady-going and dependable. But for some years it has been irascible, disputative and unreliable. The cause seems clear. It has been bothered by brush salesmen. This was revealed the other day in a sharp decision declaring, to all effects, that no salesman has any right to ring a doorbell without permission of the housewife. And written permission, too. The court held constitutional the right of any community to pass such a law. It showed less disagreement than in any case in years. (There were a couple of dissents, but these were from justices who never answer a doorbell anyhow, and just yell down "Scram.")

T. Aristotle Winch, of Winch, Winch, Smathers, Winch and Winch, this department's favorite attorney (who worked his way through college selling magazine subscriptions) declares the court off base, however. He cites Hubble versus Flatfoot (506, Mass. 84) which held that a doorbell is a doorbell and is put there to be rung. "Indeed," reads this decision, "if there is a doorbell on a house and it does not work, a salesman may even be within his rights in heaving a rock through an upper window."

Mr. Winch also cited Bottlefly versus Mrs. Potts (86. Conn. 325). In this case Mrs. Potts was forced to chop the foot off a book salesman after he had stuck it in the doorway. Bottlefly sued for a new foot. The court suspended Mrs. Potts' hatchet license saying, "Even if she had been summoned downstairs for the fourth time that morning by peddlars, the salesman was within his rights in trying to advance literature. The practice of inserting the foot in a doorway has been long allowable under common law. The argument that the defendant had a right to hack his foot off because she suspected that, failing in his effort to sell her a set of books, he would try to put over a vacuum cleaner, is hereby dismissed."

Then there is the ruling in the case of Haddock versus Crumps (46. Illinois. 76). Here Haddock, a young man, called to sell Hector Crumps subscriptions to seven periodicals, saying he was working his way through college. Crumps threw him off the porch, holding that Haddock was at least 37 years of age and that this was his sixteenth season of working his way through college. The court held that for every doorbell ringer 37 years of age seeking an education there are hundreds much younger, and their right to operate must be protected.

The most novel ruling, however, came in Stuffle versus Wimpus (33 R. I. 8197). A young man rang the bell and proposed that the tenant go to college while he moved in, subscribed to all the magazines and did the housework. Wimpus, the defendant, hit him with a chair. The court said, "Stuffle had the idea of the decade."

Music School At Rochester Honors Waring

Fred Waring

Fred Waring, Shawnee-on-Delaware, great choral leader and creator and director of Waring's Pennsylvanians, was given an honorary degree of doctor of music Wednesday by Dr. Howard Hanson, director of Eastman School of Music, at University of Rochester's 101st commencement exercises.

Dr. Hanson characterized Mr. Waring in this manner:

"Impressario extraordinary, modern reincarnation of the troubodours and the skalds of ancient days, he has brought joy, laughter, inspiration and courage to millions of his fellow Americans.

"One of the great choral conductors of modern times he has, as professor without portfolio, revolutionized the art of choral singing in America."

Mr. Waring is currently preparing to join five sessions of the Waring School of Music Workshop which this year will be held at five different colleges and universities throughout the nation.

Usually held at Shawnee, the school will utilize all of the staff of experts and provide the same complete instruction in Waring choral techniques which are given at the Shawnee sessions.

Water Gap To Eliminate Seventh Grade

Pupils Will Be Sent To Stroudsburg

Stroudsburg school board last night agreed to accept seventh grade students from Delaware Water Gap, thereby clearing the way for elimination of the seventh grade level at the Water Gap school.

The Delaware Water Gap school board eliminated the eighth grade at the Gap school several years ago, after Stroudsburg's Board of Education agreed to accept their students of that level.

Members of the Stroudsburg board said that the seventh grade level at Water Gap comprises an average of 12 pupils, indicating that the transfer of the one grade will mean no heavy additional load for the Stroudsburg Junior High.

Two bids were also awarded during last night's board meeting conducted at the W. Main St. school. Mid Valley Roofing Co., which had submitted a low bid of $1,400, was granted the contract for reroofing the Ramsey elementary school, while Clarence W. Smith was awarded a contract for painting the exterior of the Morey school.

Smith, who presented one of five bids on the painting work, was low bidder at $382.50.

The board also authorized the appointments of Mrs. Mildred B. Munson and Mrs. Dorothy A. Kelly as elementary school substitute instructors.

Miss Virginia Robinson and Mrs. Ruth Serfass were elected to positions as additional playground personnel.

Balances of $57,514.19 in the general fund, $318.75 in the coupon account, and $91.79 in the sinking fund were reported. U. S. Treasury bonds in the amount of $52,488.50 were also reported to bring the present assets to $110,413.23.

Bills in the amount of $2,625.70 were authorized for payment.

PUT THAT UMBRELLA DOWN—Rain and circuses usually don't mix too well, but such wasn't exactly the case yesterday when King Brothers circus played to two large crowds on Day St. grounds, East Stroudsburg. Above photo shows part of the big turnout at the matinee performance, while the umbrella the boy in front row is holding is ample evidence of the type of weather encountered.

Two Men Suffer Injuries In Cresco Traffic Accident

Cresco—A motorist and a passenger were injured here yesterday in a near head-on collision of two coupes on a hill curve on Route 90 near the Tillman Hawk residence.

Pfc. James Horan, who investigated for Mount Pocono State police, said the crash occurred at 2:20 p. m.

Rober Tambella, 29, of Canadensis, driver of one of the cars, suffered severe lacerations of the lower lip, and had to be treated later at Monroe County General hospital.

Joseph Lidistri, 23, of the Bronx, N. Y., the passenger, received deep cuts on the forehead and on the left knee.

Both men were treated at the Hawk residence by Dr. Joseph McEldowney, of Buck Hill Falls, and two Buck Hill staff nurses, Miss Mary Butzman and Miss Claire Miller. After medical aid was given Tambella, he was taken to General hospital in a private car.

According to State police, Tambella's heavy model coupe was in collision with a lighter model coupe, operated by Thomas Lynott, 19, of Mount Pocono Lynott escaped unhurt.

Both cars were extensively damaged, however. Front end of the Tambella car was demolished, and the left front of the Lynott vehicle was smashed. Both were removed from the scene by garage wreckers.

Police, who noted that it was raining at the time of the collision, are continuing the investigation.

Driver Freed In Kunkletown Man's Death

Easton—Anthony J. Boza, Andreas RD truck driver indicted for involuntary manslaughter in the death of a Kunkletown trucker, has been acquitted by a Northampton county jury here.

The jury deliberated an hour before clearing Boza of charges growing out of a spectacular February 1 accident on Route 45 at Petersville. Highway transports driven by Boza, Ray Berger, the 23-year-old Kunkletown truck driver, and a State Highway cinder truck and plow were involved.

Berger suffered fatal injuries when he was trapped in the cab of his truck and burned.

Testifying in his own defense, Boza denied he was criminally responsible for the accident. He said he was cautiously pulling around the State truck and plow in the fog at 20 to 25 miles per hour when he saw the Berger truck coming at him, uartly on his side of the highway.

He claimed he first attempted to apply his brakes, but when they would not hold, stepped on the accelerator in an attempt to get around the State truck.

State police, driver of the State truck coming at him, partly on and Lloyd Berger, Kunkletown, brother of the victim, all testified. Lloyd Berger described the accident scene as he saw it on his arrival, after being summoned by police because of his brother's death.

Sen. Tobey's Son Is Cured Of Cancer

Concord, N. H. (AP)—Charles W. Tobey Jr. said yesterday he wrote a letter saying he was in good health after being treated for cancer three years ago in order to give encouragement to cancer research clinics.

Tobey's father, the veteran Republican senator from New Hampshire, placed the letter before the Senate on Wednesday. Young Tobey requested it be placed in the Congressional record.

The letter did not go into details about the treatment but mentioned the use of "anti-biotic agents." These include penicillin, streptomycin and others used in the treatment of various ailments.

Young Tobey said he had cancer of lymph glands in the neck extending down into the pulmonary cavity. Before he began treatments he was in a state of exhaustion. "After only a few weeks treatment," he added, "there was a definite change."

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your keynumber. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

ADVERTISE IN THE DAILY RECORD

Recognition Paid Borough For Safety

The board of judges of the 1950 American Automobile association's national pedestrian contest has unanimously voted that Stroudsburg receive special recognition for its splendid record of no pedestrian deaths during 1950.

A letter from Lou E. Holland, president of AAA, advised Chief Burgess Hal H. Harris of the recognition and extended "sincere congratulations for this outstanding safety record with the hope that it will continue unblemished through 1951."

Mr. Holland compliments Chief of Police James F. McConnell and the entire police force, "who acted so capably as your contest representatives in 1950."

The AAA president submitted a chart showing that the intensified pedestrian safety and protection campaign started in 1937 all over the nation has cut pedestrian fatalities 44 per cent from 15,000 in 1937 to 8,800 in 1950. Much of the credit is given the pedestrian protection contest project.

In contrast all other traffic fatalities have increased five percent since 1937 . . . from 24,143 to 25,300.

Judges of the 12th annual contest included major executives in the field of Federal and state public roads bureaus, highway safety administrators, leading traffic engineers, executives of police organizations and top automobile club leaders.

Hadassah Has Report From Israel

A first-hand account of the past five years in Israel and the problems of the future in the new land was brought to the members of the local branch of Hadassah last night at their annual banquet held at the Castle Inn in Delaware Water Gap.

The speaker was Yechial Sasson, who with his family moved to Israel about five years ago.

He told of the mass migration when 600,000 had entered the country in three years. This "ingathering of the exiles' 'of thousands of years, he said brought its problems including that of integration. In the first few years practically all of the immigrants were European, but now the bulk are coming from the primitive cultures of Algeria, Tunis, Morocco and Egypt, he said.

While these people bring their agricultural background, good emotional attitudes, they need to learn the education, skills and habits which American Jews who wish to pioneer in the new country can bring, he said.

This need for pioneers and for continued support, both financial and moral, and for a continuance of the strong tie between American Jewry and Israel were points he stressed .

Mrs. Samuel Snyderman, retiring president, was presented with a gift from the Hadassah,, and Mrs. Nathan Hammerman, new president, presided at the second half of the program. There was an excellent attendance, and an elaborate dinner was served, with the tables decorated with roses and poppies and flowers from Water Gap gardens.

David Mason sang a number of solos with Mrs. William Friedman as accompanist.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

Never fails that when space is short I pick up more fascinating bits of information. I could tell you how rugged was Margie Shull's initiation as an airplane passenger. Thunder, lightning, and gales all the way home from Florida.

Could tell you how Henrietta Baldwin made a hole in one put, but it was the wrong cup during the putting match on the porch at Glen Brook.

Could tell you about how the Palestine class licked the deluge, and what we had to eat at the Hadassah dinner, as well as Dr. Leitner's recipe for spaghetti and Greta Phillipsberg's formula for brook trout.

Maybe news, as well as grass, sprouts faster in the damp weather, but we'll hope for clearing skies anyway. The grass is ankle deep and the news notes are knee-high.

It's False Economy . . .
Not to have winter garments properly Cleaned and sealed in our vaults.
Here are just a few reasons:
1—Leaving dirt and perspiration in clothing causes it to deteriorate, causing yellow stains and discoloration.
2—Moths love to eat out the cloth along with the spots on soiled clothing.
3—Moths seldom attack clean clothing.
4—Soiled garments gather moisture and mildew.
5—It costs no more to clean clothes now than it will next fall, and when properly cleaned and stored in our modern vaults, they STAY CLEAN and are ready to wear when needed.

Life of Riley

By JIM RILEY
Sports Editor

Rainy weather always hits the sports pages hard and since the action on the local front was nill for the past two days, I have decided to mention a subject that has been postponed by this writer on more than one occasion. However, I feel that today is the day to talk over the football and athletic scheduling in general between Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg High schools. True, the date is early, but as the old saying goes—a stitch in time saves nine.

Although baseball is the chief topic of conversation at the present time, people of this area are looking ahead not to the 1951 football campaign, but the 1952 season, at which time a make or break decision must be made concerning the date on which the respective High schools will hold their annual football struggle—or whether they will hold the contest at all.

The people of Monroe county have been asking that the East Stroudsburg grid battle become a Thanksgiving Day affair and little by little signs point to the fact that such will be the case in the future. However, what the followers of both schools want to know is how soon such a step will become a reality and why can't it happen in 1952? True, there are problems confronted by both sides, but none can possibly be large enough to stop such a natural rivalry.

Natural rivalries are the backbone of football law and nothing can keep rivals of this nature from clashing on an ideal day, to both parties. Bangor and Pen Argyl present a perfect example, as no team, league, person or group of people would even dare think of changing the annual grid clash between these two arch rivals. The same would be true when and if East Stroudsburg and Stroudsburg ever get together on a Thanksgiving Day football date. Due to the gate appeal and all around common sense of such a meeting on the final date of the season, both the Lehigh-Northampton and Lehigh Valley leagues would have to give their blessings to the contest.

There is no hope for the Thanksgiving Day clash next year, as the Stroudsburg-East Stroudsburg grid battle is slated to take place on Friday, October 12, Columbus Day, at Gordon Giffels field. The contest will be played under the lights. However, using the Stroudsburg schedule as an example, the game comes at a very poor time of the season, as far as success and failure of the Mountaineers is concerned. Stroudsburg is scheduled to meet Bangor, Emmaus, Palmerton and Pen Argyl before East Stroudsburg, with Whitehall, Catasauqua, Slatington, Northampton and Lehighton following the "Battle of the Boroughs."

The fact that the season reaches its peak on the fifth game of the season naturally takes some of the thrill out of the game the remainder of the campaign. It is also evident that the losing team is in even a worse condition, as the coaching staff finds it virtually impossible to get the club "up" for the remaining games on the slate. The rivalry has been one-sided in favor of Stroudsburg since it began, but some day the shoe may be on the other foot.

However, I will admit that the possibilities of having the game played on its proper date, the last day of the season, seems brighter now than at any time since I began pounding this typewriter. The fact that standings of the teams in the Lehigh-Northampton and Lehigh Valley leagues will be computed as a conference next season is certainly a step in the right direction. If the majority of schools are well satisfied with the manner in which the conference operates in 1951, it may become an official circuit the following season.

If the conference becomes official in 1952, a new type of scheduling will have to be used and in that manner Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg may take their rightful positions opposite each other on Thanksgiving Day—much to the delight of all concerned. The day that an official announcement is made, telling one and all that the schools on the opposite sides of the bridge are to meet annually on Thanksgiving will be one of the brightest in the history of athletics in Monroe county, as football followers are starved for action on the home front on this autumn holiday.

The fact that neither school could get together on a baseball date stirred up the tax payers plenty, as many of them had been waiting for a mound duel between Eastburg's Ray Steele and Stroudsburg's Alden "Red" Fetherman for a long time. However, the trend toward a better understanding between the arch rivals may be noted in the fact that both have already agreed on basketball dates for the 1951-52 campaign. This writer is only one of many who hope that an early settlement of the football problem is in sight and the day that a Thanksgiving agreement is made will be a truly prosperous day for each school, both from a football and financial angle.

Steele To Hurl Against Portland On Sunday

Pocono A. C. Renews Fight For Top Spot

Ray Steele

Ray Steele, highly regarded right handed pitcher, will toe the rubber for Pocono A. C. on Sunday, when the Monroe County League entry in the Blue Mountain League plays host to the Portland Apollos at Gordon Giffels field, it was announced last night by John Schoonover, club manager.

Steele, a resident of Bushkill and a student at East Stroudsburg High school, had been pitching for the Coplay American Legion club this year, but was declared ineligible recently by an American Legion ruling that prevents a player from a county not adjoining the one in which he is playing ball from seeing action in American Legion ranks.

Alden "Red" Fetherman, triple-threat athlete at Stroudsburg High, was also declared ineligible. Fetherman was dividing his time between the pitching mound and outfield for Coplay. Fetherman will also play with Pocono A. C.

Third Player

A third Monroe County diamond star, Ed Reese, Polk High school standout, was also declared ineligible. Reese is a resident of Gilbert.

Emmaus protested the use of the three players and since Fetherman and Reese are from Monroe County and Steele from Pike, none of which borders Lehigh, where Coplay is located, all three were declared ineligible.

Steele began attracting the attention of major league scouts during the past high school campaign when he pitched brilliantly for East Stroudsburg and was the talk off the Lehigh Valley durinf his short stay with Coplay. In the Blue Mountain League Steele will be called upon to face older and more experienced ball players.

Eastburg Circuit Opens Tonight

Rain and wet grounds postponed last night's grand opening of the East Stroudsburg Little League at the East Stroudsburg Playground. The entire Flag Day program scheduled for yesterday will be held tonight.

Schedule

The master-schedule calls for Peters-Arnold-Howell to tangle with the East Stroudsburg National Bank.

Game time is listed at 7 p.m.

Little League Contest

Tonight's action in the Stroudsburg Little League will send the First National Bank against the Pen-Stroud Hotel, at Stroudsburg Playground, at 6:30. This contest was scheduled earlier in the season, but was postponed by rain at that time.

Baseball School Today

Rain postponed yesterday's scheduled baseball school for boys between the ages of 13 and 15 inclusive at Gordon Giffels field. The school, under the direction of Doug Schoonover, Stroudsburg playground director, will be held today, at 10:30 a. m., weather permitting.

Owners Discuss Chandler In Two Meetings

New York (AP)—Organized baseball apparently completed arrangements to part company with Commissioner A. B. Chandler but announcement of the final terms was held up because Chandler could not be reached immediately.

The American and National League owners met separately and when they had reached agreement on the several documents drawn up by Chandler's lawyers they tried to locate the former Kentucky Senator and tell him their findings.

Chandler was en route by auto from Versailles, Ky., to Knoxville, Tenn., at the time and could not be reached. So the owners instructed Warren Giles, president of the Cincinnati Reds and a member of Baseball's Executive committee, to deliver their verdict to Chandler in Cincinnati today. Then they started for their homes.

The owners gave no outright indication what their decision might be although there was little doubt but that they accepted Chandler's terms. They said a simultaneous announcement will be made by Chandler and Giles in Cincinnati.

Statement

Chandler, meanwhile, arrived in Knoxville, and said he knew nothing about the completion of severance arrangements.

"I haven't been in touch with them today," he said. "They will have to call me if they have anything to tell me."

In Knoxville to deliver a flag day address last night, Chandler rushed aside all other questions concerning baseball.

"I'm here to talk about Americanism," he said. "I have nothing more to say about baseball."

"We can make no comment until we have spoken with the commissioner," said Will Harridge of Chicago, president of the American League, as the session broke up.

The severance terms are understood to include payment of Chandler's $65,000 salary through next April 30, when his seven year term ends and assurance he will not be financially responsible in any law suits against baseball.

Snead Leads National Open Field

By Will Grimsley

Birmingham, Mich., (AP) —Golfdom's mighty masters from three continents took their worst shellacking from par in modern history yesterday as erratic Sam Snead came stumbling home with a one over 71 for the first round lead in the fifty-first United States Open Championship.

The tempermental slammer from White Sulphur Springs, West Va., held the Oakland Hills ogre by the horn for 14 holes—being three under par at that point—but then he was struck with an attack of old putting jitters to finish with 34-37—71.

The 6,927-yard, par 35-35—70 Oakland Hills course more than measured up to the horrors which the contenders painted in their pre-tournament rounds.

Tough Course

Its gun-barrel fairways and wheat-like rough were so frustrating that defending champion Ben Hogan came in with a 39-37—76, taking a horrendous two-over-par six on the final hole.

Chandler Harper, the thin PGA champion from Portsmouth, Va., picked up in utter disgust after 14 holes. He was seven over par at that juncture.

Snead's 71 gave him a one-stroke advantage going into today's second round over Clayton Heafner, blond, bull-shouldered campaigner from Charlotte, N. C., and Albert Besselink, 27-year-old fledgling professional from Mount Clemens, Mich. They shared 72's.

Nearly a dozen professionals were bracketed at 73 and scores ranged from there all the way to 92, authored by Harold Haddock of Denver, Colo.

South Africa's Bobby Locke, the British Open champion, explored every trap and every stretch of rough on the premises, it seemed, to finish with a scrambling 37-36—73.

Bracketed with him at that figure were Sam Bernardi, Fort Sheridan, Ill. little Paul Runyon, two time PGA winner from Pasadena, Calif.; E. J. "Dutch" Harrison of Little Rock, Ark.; Johnny Palmer of Badin, N. C.; Smiley Quick of Los Angeles, Calif.; Denny Shute, another former PGA champion from Akron, Ohio; Charles "Chuck" Klein of San Antonio, Tex.; Al Brosch of Garden City, N. Y. and Sam Byrd, the one-time New York Yankee ball player from Detroit.

Byrd came to the 459-yard eighteenth hole needing only a par to tie Snead for the lead. The former Babe Ruth understudy trapped his tee shot, chipped onto the fairway, fell short of the green on his third and took three to get in.

Rough Day

Lee Mackey, Jr., of Birmingham, Ala., who set an all-time open record with an opening round 64 at Merion a year ago, settled for a 43-41—84 this sunny, humid day—20 strokes above his 1950 effort.

This was typical of the heartbreak and disappointment that will mark June 14, 1951 as one of the "helpless days" of American golf.

Historians went scurrying into the records to find out the last time par had so completely baffled the great shotmakers of the times.

Chisox Down Senators Twice

Washington (AP)— The Chicago White Sox boosted their American League lead to four and one-half games over the Yankees last night, sweeping a twilight-night doubleheader from Washington, 8-7 and 14-5. The wins were the fourteenth and fifteenth consecutive road victories for the White Sox, leaving them one short of the American league record set by the Senators in 1912 and two shy of the major league mark established by the Giants in 1916.

Hapless Washington, beaten 21 times in its last 24 games, has dropped ten straight to the White Sox since beating them in their first clash this season.

Early Verdict

Chicago tucked the second game away as early as the second inning, capitalizing on the Senators' shoddy defensive play to score six runs on three hits off A. Sima as shortstop Sam Dente and left fielder Gil Coan injected grievious errors. Washington made six errors in the second game.

Louis, Savold Move Into Garden Tonight

By Jack Hand

New York (AP)— Another rainy day yesterday forced the promoters to reschedule the Joe Louis-Lee Savold heavyweight bout for tonight at Madison Square garden after two 24-hour postponements.

The move downtown from the Polo Grounds was prompted by a steady downpour that soaked the open ball park seats and turf. A conflicting night game at the Yankee stadium tonight resulted in the decision to move indoors.

No second weigh-in will be required by the New York State Athletic Commission although both boxers will undergo special physical examinations by Dr. Vincent Nardiello. Louis scaled 211¼, Savold 190 when they weighed in Wednesday noon.

Activity

The postponement sent the International Boxing staff into a flurry of activity, exchanging tickets. None of the old tickets, except general admission, can be used. Some 3,000 generals at $2.50 per went on sale yesterday.

As soon as the postponement was announced, the Gorden office was opened to exchange tickets for similar seats. It was open until 9:00 p. m. last night and will be open all day today, starting at 9:00 a. m. (EDT).

With approximately $25,000 in advance sale, the IBC hopes to crowd close to the $100,000 mark by moving indoors. The house, scaled at $20 tops, could be "well over $100,000" according to Harry Markson, IBC boxing director.

If the double washout has any significance it may be recalled that Louis knocked out Jersey Joe Walcott in 1948 after two rainouts.

"Calm and ready" was the way Manager Bill Daly described Savold. "His fight with Lou Nova was postponed four times,' he said. "And Lee knocked him out. He's just an old pro."

Rain never bothered Louis. He probably will be a little heavier than he was Wednesday noon. But he just sits and waits for the bell still wishing he was fighting Ezzard Charles for the title rather than Savold.

If Louis beats Savold—and he's a 14 to 5 favorite—he'll get Charles in September, probably at Detroit. If he loses, he'll hang up.

Thompson, Mays Lead Giants To Victory Over Reds, 11-6

Cincinnati, (AP)—Henry Thompson and rookie Willie Mays ripped into Cincinnati pitching for seven of New York's 15 hits yesterday while Larry Jansen made it three straight over the Reds by an 11-6 margin.

Although the Reds banged away at Jansen for 11 hits, they never were able to catch up after New York scored four in the first. Howie Fox and four successors were unable to contain the Giant attack.

Big Drop

The result dumped the Reds, who rode home from the east in second place in the National league jumble.

Thompson opened the run parade with a first-inning single and kept it up all afternoon. Another single in the third, a double in the fifth and a single in the sixth gave him four straight before "Bud" Byerly finally got him out in the eighth.

Mays was almost as rough on the Cincy pitchers. He also singled home runs in the first and fifth and tripled off the left field wall in the seventh after Wes Westrum walked.

Phillies Run Wild Over Cubs, 11-3

Chicago (AP) — Sixteen hits, including Bill Nicholson's first homer of the season, enabled the Philadelphia Phillies to wallop the Chicago Cubs, 11 to 3, yesterday before a Ladies' Day crowd of 12,931.

Russ Meyer breezed to his fourth victory while the Phils knocked out Bob Rush and continued their attack on three other pitchers. It was the seventh loss in eight games for the seventh place Cubs.

Rush was knocked out in the sixth inning after giving up seven of the Phillies' runs. The Cub pitching parade included Cal McLish, Bob Kelly and Johnny Schmitz.

Eddie Waitkus opened the game with a double for the Phils and scored on a single by Willie Jones. Jones then stole second and scored on Dick Sisler's single.

Tie Score

It took the Cubs four innings to tie the score. Frank Baumholtz scored Jack Cusick with a triple in the third and then remained at third while Hank Sauer struck out and Gran Hamner threw out Andy Pafko. Ransom Jackson's walk and successive singles by "Smoky" Burgess and Wayne Terwilliger gave the Cubs their second run in the fourth.

The Phils went to work on Rush in earnest in the fifth inning and chased him to the showers in the sixth, while building up an 8-2 lead. Seminick's walk, a single by Waitkus and Ashburn's double accounted for three runs in the fifth. Rush came out for the sixth, but was gone after Sisler's double and a triple by Mike Goliat. Seminick greeted McLish with a single to score Goliat and a single by Waitkus brought Seminick home after Meyer's sacrifice.

Nicholson's homer followed a single by Del Ennis in the seventh inning. Big Nick drove home the Phils, last run in the eighth.

Date Changed For Donkey Diamond Tilt

Roseto — A donkey baseball game scheduled to be played here at Roseto park tonight has been postponed until Monday, at 8 p. m., due to commencement exercises being held at Bangor High school tonight. Dr. Nicholas Cascario, president of Roseto A. A., announced the change in plans last night.

Top Teams

It was felt that a large number of Roseto fans would be lost at the game due to the high school graduation. A change was made a necessity in order to have a capacity crowd on hand to witness the laugh struggle between the Roseto club and Eighth St. Garage.

The game, as funny as a circus, will feature top teams of two different fields of play. Roseto A. A. is currently leading the Blue Mountain league, while the Eighth Street Garage is the defending title-holder in the Industrial Softball league.

FRIDAY

March 21 to April 20 (Aries)—Especially favorable rays for interests concerning our armed forces, for difficult tasks, changes in situations, plans, maneuvers.

April 21 to May 20 (Taurus)—Your Venus' aspect here stresses need for unselfishness where matters of import to others should come first.

June 22 to July 23 (Cancer)—The unexpected may happen. Beneficial moves, changes likely, help them along.

July 24 to August 22 (Leo)—Favorable influences for military needs, successes, for courageous deeds. You not afraid to work can make fresh gains in honest endeavors.

August 23 to September 23 (Virgo)—Many useful and needed tasks now could use your able cooperation. In spare time, give some energy and encouragement to charities.

September 24 to October 23 (Libra)—Extra thought, care asked now if handling artistic and delicate items; day tops for rugged things.

November 23 to December 22 (Sagittarius)—Like most of us, you can make good in any worthy endeavor and while you may not reap all personal gain.

December 23 to January 21 (Capricorn)—The daring and unusual (essential or urgent), dealing in electricity, television, radio, aeronautics among most honored activities this stimulating day.

February 21 to March 20 (Pisces)—Intriguing period for highly confidential matters, searching out information important to government, Army, Navy, Air Force, science, religion.

YOU BORN TODAY: Much diversified talent, inventive genius in your Zodiacal sector, but you may at times lack the necessary concentration to achieve your objective or reach the top of the success ladder which you could so well do. It is imperative to cultivate patience for slow-developing projects. Quick returns for labor aren't always the lasting, durable kind. Keep studying, improving the quality of your work, be willing to listen to sound suggestions, follow rightful authority. Pray when troubled and in thanksgiving, too. Dodgers Edge Cardinals On Hodges' Homer

St. Louis, (AP)—Gil Hodges rode his twentieth home run into the left field bleachers after "Duke" Snider singled with two out in the ninth yesterday for Brooklyn's 2-1 edge over St. Louis. One blow off Hodges' bat wiped out the effect of 15 Cardinal hits.

Rookie Joe Presko seemed on the verge of a four-hit shutout as he whizzed past "Pee Wee" Reese and Jackie Robinson in the ninth. Snider's single kept the game alive.

Back-Breaker

Then Hodges delivered his back-breaker to hand the young right-hander his third loss. Carl Erskine, who pitched the last two innings after Ralph Branca was lifted for a pinch hitter, picked up his sixth victory.

It was a day of wasted opportunities for the Cards. Twice they had three hits in an inning and failed to score.

Pirates Shell Braves As Dickson Wins Eighth

Pittsburgh (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates yesterday beat the Boston Braves 9-4 by virtue of a big five-run fourth inning and steady pitching from Murray Dickson.

The smallest home crowd of the year—4,277—turned out to see Dickson win his sixth complete game and his eighth victory of the season. Dickson, who now has beaten every club in the National League, has chalked up eight of the Pirates total of 20 1951 victories.

Bickford Shelled

The Bucs, who have been battling a home field jinx, shelled Vern Bickford, Boston pitcher, in their big fourth inning. That frame was highlighted by Wally Westlake's two run single.

In the next inning, Westlake belted his sixteenth homer off pitcher Bob Chipman. He drove in four Pittsburgh runs during the game.

Auto Thrill Show Postponed Until Tomorrow Due To Rain

Blakeslee—Forced to postpone last night's performance due to the heavy rains, Joie Chitwood's World's Champion Auto Daredevils, recognized as the nation's greatest crew of motor maniacs, have re-scheduled their appearance at the Pocono Sunrise Speedway tomorrow night, with the auto thrillers slated to get under way promptly at 8:30 p. m.

Promoter George Perluke and Charles "Buddy" Wagner, Chitwood unit manager, announced plans yesterday.

Arrangements

"We have made arrangements to handle 3,000 spectators and have installed additional bleacher seats," said Wagner yesterday. "The portable floodlight system we are bringing to Sunrise Speedway Saturday night is one of the best obtainable and we feel certain that the rain date tomorrow night will please many fans in this section who had planned to attend the show."

Indians Use Homers To Sink A's

Philadelphia, (AP) — Cleveland used the home run as its offensive weapon in defeating Philadelphia 3 to 1 last night. Ray Boone and Jim Hegan pounded the round trippers which paved the way for Bob Lemon's seventh hill decision as the Tribe turned on their former teammate southpaw, Sam Zoldak, in the latter's first starting assignment of the year for the A's.

Zoldak held Cleveland scoreless until the sixth when Boone got his fourth circuit clout of the season with one out.

Two More

Then with two away, Harry Simpson singled and Hegan drilled Zoldak's first pitch into the stands, accounting for the big catcher's fifth four baser of the campaign.

Zoldak, who hadn't gone more than one inning in any game in eight relief jobs, lost his touch as the Indians unloaded their heavy bats.

Philadelphia's only run off Lemon crossed in the third on hits by Ferris Fain, Elmer Valo and a fielder's choice and an outfield fly.

Philadelphia's loss was its sixth in succession.

National CAP Chaplain To Speak Here

All flights in the Allentown group of the Civil Air patrol have been extended inviattions to be special guests at a service to be held in the East Stroudsburg Methodist church Sunday night, Rev. Harold E. Eaton, the church pastor, announced last night.

Col. Robert P. Taylor, of Washington, D. C., national chaplain of the Civil Air patrol, will be the speaker.

The Stroudsburgs' CAP unit and a number of others will assemble at the armory on Washington St. at 7 p. m. Sunday and march to the church, according to spokesmen for Lt. Raymond Allegar, commanding officer of the Stroudsburg unit.

The service at the church will commence at 7:30 p. m.

Collision Of Truck, Sedan Results In Injuries To Two

Tannersville—Two persons were slightly injured in an accident which occurred in the rain on Route 611 here at 12:15 p. m. yesterday.

They were Miss Thelma M. Messier, 21-year-old nurse, of Tannersville, who received bruises about her right eye, and Conrad Durst, of Canadensis, who sustained injuries of the forehead and left leg.

Miss Messier was the operator of a 1949 sedan, while Durst was a passenger in the cab of a light truck which was struck by the Messier vehicle. Both were treated by their own physicians.

Pfc. Steven Sabin, of Stroudsburg State police, said Durst was riding with Milton Brinker, 30, of Canadensis, in a truck owned by Brinker.

Brinker was proceeding southward on the highway, and Miss Messier had been driving northward when she slowed down and made a left turn across the southbound lane.

The intense rain at the time limited the vision of the drivers, according to report.

Police said the Messier car was registered in the name of Linwood J. Messier, operator of the Linwood Seafood market at Tannersville. Miss Messier was turning off the highway toward the parking area in front of the market when the accident occurred.

Ben Grauer, the radio commentator, also is a rabid book collector and a member of several bibliographical and literary societies.

Rev. Bawden, Formerly Of Bangor, Dies

Philadelphia (AP)—Rev. William J.Bawden, a veteran of 53 years as a Methodist minister, died Wednesday at his home. He was 76.

Mr. Bawden was a native of Schuylkill county, and taught English in the Bangor, Pa., High school from 1912 until 1924. He served as supply minister at the Methodist church in Glendon, Pa.

For 16 years, he was a member of the statistical staff of the Philadelphia Methodist conference. He served churches in Allentown, Port Carbon and Lehighton, Pa.

Mr. Bawden retired from the active ministry in 1947, after serving as minister of the Providence Methodist church. Philadelphia. Later, he agreed to serve again as pastor of the Orthodox Street Methodist church. He held the post until he died.

After funeral services on Saturday, interment will be private, at Bangor.

Area Youths Win Places In Contests

Two regional youths won places in the agricultural competition at Pennsylvania's Future Farmers of America conference yesterday at Penn State College.

Kenneth Oxford, of Bangor, took sixth place in the poultry contest, and Sanford Reed, of Mt. Pleasant, Wayne county, was sixth in farm mechanics.

Heavy rains throughout the day hampered most events on the second day of the FFA's three-day session. Contests were planned for outdoors but the rain forced them inside.
